

OFFICIAL PROBE INTO BERGDOLL AFFAIRS IS MADE

Will Try Two Americans By American Court Martial.

VICTIM LAYS LOW

Feeling Against America Running High In Little Town.

Eberbach, Germany, Jan. 31.—Colonel Kyle Rucker, judge advocate of the American army of occupation at Coblenz, has begun an investigation of the attempt to kidnap Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, of Philadelphia, an American millionaire draft dodger, and it was reported today that Colonel Rucker had asked for the release of the two American prisoners—Charles Neaf, of Baltimore and Frank Zimmer, of Denver—promising that they would be tried by an American court-martial.

Colonel Bagby of the United States military intelligence office at Coblenz, was quoted as saying that the two prisoners were not connected with the military intelligence section, such matters as the Bergdoll incident coming under the department of criminal investigation of the provost marshal. Bergdoll declares that he has no intention of becoming a German citizen. On the contrary, he hopes to return to the United States possibly this year. He said he had reason to believe from statements made to him by "spies" that a decree of amnesty for political prisoners will be proclaimed at Washington after the Harding administration takes office in March which would enable him to go back to Philadelphia.

(Note: Premier Renneke, of Baden, in an announcement in the Baden diet last Thursday said that both Bergdoll and his chauffeur Eugene Stecher had become naturalized German citizens.) Unlike Bergdoll, the chauffeur, Eugene Stecher, "Bergdoll's Friday," intends to remain in Germany. He has taken out German citizenship papers and says he "never wants to see America again as long as he lives."

Stecher was born in Baden, but was taken to the United States at the age of five by his parents.

Bergdoll is "Hero" and martyr in the eyes of many of the Eberbach townfolk. But this hero worship is giving away to anti-American feeling and a wave of "sympathy" that is nearly hysterical in its intensity. The latter reminds one of the war time. The International News Service correspondent who was the first American to reach Eberbach following the attempt to shoot Bergdoll, found it expedient to report to the police immediately to prove his identity.

This high feeling has been intensified by an alleged statement attributed to Neaf that if he were imprisoned a company of American soldiers would come from Coblenz and release him. This together with the shooting during the attempt to seize the American refugees has caused much excitement.

The people are especially bitter because one of the bullets, evidently intended for Bergdoll wounded a 16 year old girl, Frulein Yena Link.

In the midst of all this excitement Bergdoll and Stecher have been living quietly and apparently indifferent to the hornets' nest that was stirred up about them. But their tranquility has now been shaken.

Bergdoll feared a repetition of the attempt to seize him and told the police that he planned "to lay low." The police replied that he had "better make himself as invisible as possible," so Bergdoll has given up his rooms in the hotel owned by his cousin, Frau Bohrmann.

CLEVELAND REDY TO FIGHT TO LIMIT ON GAS QUESTION

Fail To Reach Agreement On New Rates It Is Declared.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 31.—Mayor Fitzgerald announced this morning that the city was prepared to go to the mat with East Ohio Gas company following a failure of all attempts to reach an agreement upon new gas rates when the present franchise expires Feb. 6. He declared that court action would be taken to prevent a shutoff in the supply and that the city would not accept the proposal of the company to continue the supply under the present arrangement until May 1.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Victor L. Berger, socialist leader, convicted and sentenced by Federal Judge Landis at Chicago, to 20 years imprisonment for alleged violation of the espionage act, today won his appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court against the conviction and sentence on the ground of prejudice on the part of Judge Landis.

FIREMEN LOSE LIVES AS WALL COLLAPSES

Three Fighters Crushed To Death and 19 Others Injured When Brick Wall Crashed in Big Fire in Providence, Rhode Island

Providence, R. I., Jan. 31.—Three firemen were instantly killed and nineteen others were seriously injured today when a brick wall collapsed at the height of a fire which destroyed the Matthews building, a business block at No. 99-103 Washington street.

The wall fell with a crash that could be heard for miles.

Clemence Street offered the best location from which to fight the blaze. The twenty-two firemen buried under the falling wall were on this store on fire escapes on the side of the building which parallels that street.

Without a moment's warning, the two story wall began to sway. Some firemen jumped. The others held their positions. The heavy wall fell burying the 22 men beneath tons of brick and stone.

NAVY WILL NOT BE SCAPPED-DANIELS

Annapolis, Jan. 31.—There will be no scrapping of the navy at least in the near future, Secretary of the Navy Daniels told the regiment of midshipmen in an address last night before the Young Men's Christian Association at the Naval Academy.

TESTS ESCAPING GAS WITH CANDLE; BLAST ENDS LIFE WITH GUN BROTHER USED

Columbus, Jan. 31.—A Macaluso scented an odor in his home at 67 East Naghten street.

Believing it to be escaping gas, he lighted a candle and started down the cellar stairs.

Firemen found the house considerably damaged, but Macaluso aside from a few scratches appeared to be uninjured.

The force of the explosion had blown him back into the kitchen, it is claimed.

Canton, Jan. 31.—Using the same revolver that her brother committed suicide in the family, a sister having Sarah Braugh, wife of a farmer residing near Canton, ended her life by shooting herself through the head this morning. This is the third suicide in the family, a sister having ended her life several years ago by taking poison. Mrs. Braugh went to a raspberry patch near the house where she fired the fatal shot and was found by her husband.

MILLER WILL QUIT AS HEAD OF SCHOOLS

Dayton, Jan. 31.—Frank W. Miller, superintendent of public schools has been notified by the Board of Education that he will not be hired again when his term expires in May. Miller was state school commissioner under Governor Cox, first term, and has been head of the local schools for five years. He was engaged by a former Democratic board. The present board is of the "small board" plan elected a year ago.

BLAME BLACK HAND FOR EXPLOSION

Sharon, Pa., Jan. 31.—The "Black Hand" is believed to be responsible for the partial demolition of the Messina Brothers' wholesale fruit establishment, a three-story brick building and the shattering of hundreds of windows in nearby buildings, as the result of the explosion of two bombs early Sunday.

The plotters placed two big cans of powder in the main entrance of the Messina building and then were whisked away in a closed automobile. It is said that James Messina, an Italian, had received a threatening letter declaring that the bombs would be exploded and was waiting for the plotters when they placed the bombs. He and his family occupied the third floor of the building.

RAILROADS WILL APPEAL TO U. S. BOARD FOR AID

Expect To Present Plea For Reduction In Wages.

STRIKE AT AGREEMENT

Rail Chiefs Want Abrogation Of National Understanding.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Railroads of the United States, through the labor committee of the American Association of Railway Executives, are expected to present their plea for a reduction in the wages paid railroad employees to the United States Railway Wage Labor Board today. The appeal to the labor board will climax a series of conferences that have been in session here since Thursday.

The first blow of the railway chiefs will be struck directly at the present national agreement, entered into while the railroads were under federal control, according to an outline of the plan of the railway executives that became public here today. Abrogation of the national agreement will be the first demand.

ADDITION OF EXTRA POLICEMAN IN CITY IS NOT FEASIBLE

That the addition of one extra policeman is impossible due to the city's financial condition, and that an increase of one man only would accrue in little material benefit, was the opinion of the city commission in regard to a letter received by that body from the Chamber of Commerce asking for additional police protection.

The letter read that the Commission meeting and received from L. C. Tingley, former secretary of the Chamber of Commerce is as follows:

"Several people in this organization have taken the matter up with me, in the past few weeks, of additional police protection in the city of Xenia as a protection against this present crime wave that is sweeping the country."

OCEAN YACHT RACE WILL DRAW TEN U. S. CRAFT, SAID

New York, Jan. 31.—The prospect of another ocean yacht race as a result of the offer of King Albert of Belgium for a race from Sandy Hook to Ostend, caused speculation today regarding the possible number of American entries. There are 26 American yachts, according to yachtsmen here, that would be eligible for a trans-Atlantic race. Not all of these yachts are in commission however, and several being auxiliary schooners, would have to have their engines sealed. The Atlantic 11 winner of the 1905 race is now owned by James C. and Nicholas F. Brady and probably will be entered for the Belgium trophy. As many as eight or ten American entries are expected.

Offer Of King Albert Of Belgium Attracts Notice

As the appropriation ordinance for the coming year has already been passed, fixing the distribution of money within the city's income, another policeman could not be added to the force and the city still keep in its income, it was pointed out at the commission meeting. It was also believed that the addition of a policeman was not enough of an essential to require a sacrifice in other departments. It was further pointed out that the city now has 35 percent more street lights operating, including a number of lights in alleys, than was the case in 1917 and that with the telephone police call box system and the addition of a motorcycle policeman, the department is better than before. It was the opinion of the commission that the addition of one man to the department would not add to the protection of the city as it would take more policemen to patrol the entire city.

PROPERTY HOLDERS TO VOTE ON PLAN TO REPAIR STREETS

Whether people living on non-paved streets want their streets repaired by special assessment, will be decided soon through petitions to be presented to property owners on those streets.

This was decided upon at the meeting of the city commission Friday evening, at which time it was brought up that the continual freezing and thawing is playing havoc with gravel streets.

The city now has a paving program for next year pending, the program to include a number of important streets now unpaved, and including East Church street, East Second, East Market, East Third, Walnut and other streets. However pending the consummation of this paving the streets now unpaved, are in a bad condition.

It is the belief of the city administration that it is a waste of time and money to attempt to temporarily repair these streets through the addition of cinders or gravel, thrown in the mud holes. To repair the streets right so that they will last until any paving program projected can be concluded, it is thought, the best plan is to regrade and resurface the streets.

For this purpose petitions will be presented to the property owners on the streets in question the signing of which will express a desire that the street be repaired, at a cost, it is estimated of less than $1 per front foot. The streets will be graded first and then a gravel road bed laid, with drainage and culverts. The cost spread out over a period of ten years would be slight, as a total of $30,000 raised by special assessments would repair all such streets in the city.

Should the majority of property holders desire such repair work, the work will probably be done this spring.

FIRE SCARE ROUSES OCCUPANTS OF DODDS APARTMENTS

What turned out to be a 'tempest in a tea pot' resulted from what really was 'a conflagration in a pan' at the Dodds Apartment early Sunday morning.

Residents were aroused early by the strong smell of smoke. The noise of hastening occupants in padded bed room slippers, scantily dressed apartment dwellers, cries and telephone rings, contributed to the general alarm of fire.

The presence of the department was all that was needed to present the complete touch of the early morning apartment fire, the front page story, the list of injured, the statement of the fire chief and the amount of insurance carried. And the department would have been called a moment later had not the personal investigation of occupants discovered that a pan of tea towels, forgotten and left on the stove overnight in the apartment of William Dodds, former Mayor, caused all of the fire scare. The water having boiled away the towels burned up in the pan, without further damage than their own total loss.

Mr. Walker remains his connection with the Walker Transfer Company, which was not included in the purchase of the coal business, and will still operate his trucks.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hornick of East Third street, have been bereaved by the death of their infant daughter Catherine Marie, born Thursday. Burial was made Friday at the Catholic cemetery.

FIGHT OVER BARBER EQUIPMENT LEADS TO COMMON PLEAS COURT

A fight over barbershop equipment being used under lease by Harvey Coates and Hugh McFadden, as the Coates & McFadden barber shop, resulted in part of the equipment being torn out of the shop Monday by Rufus M. Mullen, owner, and the subsequent filing of an injunction and damage suit in Common Pleas Court.

The suit, filed by Attorneys Miller & Finney, is titled C. H. Coates against R. M. Mullen and H. L. Dice, the latter being the carpenter employed by Mullen, and the suit asks for damages due to the plaintiff for interruption and inconvenience in the operation of his business.

The case grew out of the ownership of the barbershop equipment by Mullen and its lease by Coates and McFadden. When Rufus M. Mullen left the barber business to devote all of his time to the Mullen-Jenkins Tobacco Company, he sublet the room he was occupying in the Allen building to Coates & McFadden, including the barber equipment.

Recently the Mullen-Jenkins Tobacco Company opened up a cigar and tobacco retail store on East Main street and within the last weeks, began remodeling work on that room preparatory to opening up a barbershop. This action, it is understood, grew out of the action of the Coates & McFadden firm in leasing direct from Miss Clara Allen, owner of the building, the room they occupy. As the back bars, stationary washstand, furniture and fixtures belonged to Mullen he made known his intention of removing them to his new shop, and Coates & McFadden immediately purchased new equipment with the intention of having it installed before the lease on the old equipment should expire. The lease will not expire until February 12, Coates said Monday.

Monday morning carpenters employed by Mullen began taking out the equipment, first removing the stationary washstand and cutting off all hot and cold water from the barbershop, and then taking out all the mirrors on the back bar on one side. The action led to the subsequent injunction suit and suit for damages. A temporary restraining order was allowed by Judge M. J. Hartley and work was stopped before noon Monday.

Monday afternoon, barbers were using for shaving water, buckets of hot water carried into the shop and patrons for shampoos, were having their heads dunked into the buckets to remove the lather. Despite the handicaps the shop is still open for business and barbers are working as formerly although seriously inconvenienced.

The new fixtures order by Coates & McFadden were shipped from St. Louis last Friday and are expected to arrive here before the lease runs out Feb. 12.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT CHURCH IN HONOR OF JAMES JEFFRYES

James Jeffries, Xenia's oldest citizen, celebrated his 100th birthday Sunday by attending the services at the First M. E. Church.

Although he had insisted that he wanted to walk to the church from his West Second street home, as he had done many times in the past, owing to the rainy weather he consented to ride, and was brought to the church by J. H. Whitmer.

Rev. G. A. Scott, pastor of the First M. E. Church, and last of a long line of ministers whom Mr. Jeffries has seen occupy the pulpit in his church, preached a sermon at the regular service that was appropriate to the occasion.

Seated by his side on the platform in front of the congregation, was Mr. Jeffries, the church's oldest and still one its most enthusiastic members. During the musical program, Mr. Jeffries contributed with a violin solo having brought his beloved instrument to the edifice with him.

One hundred red roses, significant of the one hundred birthdays he has enjoyed, were presented to him by Professor W. S. Sackett who was chairman of the church committee to arrange for the celebration. In speaking a few words at the request of Rev. Scott, Mr. Jeffries thanked the official board of the church for its kindness and asked the blessing of God upon all of the congregation.

At his home on West Second street following the services, Mr. Jeffries was the central figure in a family gathering that attended dinner at the Jeffries home. During the entire day many friends from this and other cities dropped in to call and chat with Mr. Jeffries. Among his visitors on his birthday were the following relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jeffries and son and daughter, of Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. William Jeffries of Xenia, Mrs. Alpha Jeffries, son and two daughters and William Carroll of Piqua, Mrs. Mary Harbrecht, Mrs. Jeffries' sister, from Cincinnati, Al Zeiner, of Jamestown, Mrs. Charles Katz, of Springfield, Henry Fetz, Paul Fetz, Mr. and Mrs. Elton Smith, Rev. G. A. Scott, Rev. B. B. Uhl, Herbert Davis, Miss Babe Rader, Mrs. Edward Meahl, and four daughters, Mrs. Curtis Jeffries and daughter of Dayton, and grandson, Earl Jeffries of Xenia, Mrs. George Barnes, Clarence and Nelson Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. George Jeffries, Mrs. John Eley, Mrs. Mary Heathcock, Ellen McCurran, Robert, Dorothy and Catherine Downs, John A. Beatty, Effie Rain, Ralph Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Webster, John Kennedy, James Curlett, Miss Lida Maxey, Edwin Maxey and Elvora Maxey.

Besides those who visited him personally there were many cards and letters from friends near and far expressing their well wishes to Mr. Jeffries.

Tom Valentine, colored, was fined $5 and costs by Judge E. Dawson Smith in Police Court Monday morning when he pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness.

CHORUS GIRLS AND NEWSPAPER MEN AID TO BE MODELS

New York, Jan. 31. — The crime wave in New York has been taken apart and inspected with some interesting results according to John J. Lyons, secretary of state. And first let it be known that newspaper men and chorus girls walk pretty nearly 100 percent within the legal "thou shalt not" lines. Only one chorus girl has been brought up before a judge last year and the newspaper profession is represented by one each of the following: Publisher, editor, reporter, correspondent and advertising writer.

Clerks and chauffeurs, as a class, break the law most frequently. The two vocations ran a dead heat last year with 381 each.

PRESBYTERIANS ISSUE CALL TO MINISTER

Rev. Louis Lee, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Evanston, a suburb of Cincinnati was extended a call to the pastorate of the local Presbyterian Church at a congregational meeting of the local church held Sunday.

The vote to extend the call to Rev. Lee was unanimous on the part of the congregation. Rev. Lee preached at the local church two weeks ago, and although he was not a candidate for the local pastorate, he made such a favorable impression upon members of the church here, that they immediately decided to issue a call to him.

Rev. Lee will preach at the Presbyterian Church here Wednesday evening at which time a large attendance of members of the congregation is desired. Following the services, he will confer with members of the official board of the church and it is hoped at that time, that he will decide to accept the local pastorate.

Rev. Lee is married and has two children. The local church has been without a pastor since last September, when Rev. J. O. C. McCracken resigned to accept another call.

ELEVEN DIE WHEN HOTEL DESTROYED BY FIRE IN EAST

Hoboken, N. J., Jan. 31.—Eleven persons were buried to death Sunday by a fire which destroyed the Hotel Colonial here.

Four others were badly burned and taken to a hospital, where it was reported they probably would not recover.

A stream of persons was at the morgue today trying to identify the bodies of the victims. They met with only partial success, however, although police said jewelry and other articles on the charred bodies probably would lead to discovery of relatives of all those burned.

Bernard M. McFeely, director of public safety in Hoboken, has ordered two investigations; one by the police into the manner in which the hotel was being conducted, and the other by the fire department to determine how the fire started.

According to a statement by George Groll, the night clerk, the fire started in a guest's room. It is believed the guest had left a lighted cigar or cigarette stub where it set fire to the drapery.

TO HOLD MEETING
The Orient Hill School Mothers Circle will meet at the school building Tuesday, February 1.

CITY TO ENFORCE ORDINANCES AGAINST B. & O. RAILROAD

Action of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad in the alleged failure to comply with the order of the city to plank its right of way at all newly paved street crossings where the planking was torn up to establish a grade may lead to old ordinances regarding the speed of trains and the blocking of crossings to be enforced.

Such notice was served on the railroad in a letter written by City Manager Kenyon Riddle Monday. It is pointed out that during the paving work, the planking along the right of way had to be torn up, as the roadway was lowered to meet the proper grade. The road, it is said, has since ignored orders of the city to replank the roadway, especially at street intersections.

A ten day ultimatum given the road by the city some time ago was totally ignored, it was brought out at a recent commission meeting. For that reason the city will enforce the speed ordinances which have been standing idle on the statute books since the enfranchisement of the railroads here.

The speed ordinance provides that trains shall not travel through the city at a greater speed than six miles an hour, which is considered drastic in these times, and has not been enforced for that reason, and there is also another ordinance concerning the blocking of streets by trains.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mr. Ollie Dodds, who for a time was in charge of the billiard hall on East Main street has severed his connection with it and Mr. Will Grottenick the former owner is again in charge.

The bids for the construction of the new sanitary sewerage system for Xenia were opened by the commission at noon today. In all, about twenty bids were submitted the work of opening and examining them occupying most of the afternoon.

The jewelry store of Kyle and Tate is to have a change of location about the first of May, moving from the room now occupied by it to the room in the Allen block now occupied by Fawcett and the Rapid Transit office. This will make a desirable location for them and will necessitate the Rapid Transit Company and the U. S. Fawcett vacating the room before long.

It was something like fifteen degrees warmer this morning than yesterday morning and while the weather is still quite wintry the change is a very welcome one. The sleighing parties have been making the most of the occasion and the liveryman has been reaping a harvest, a dollar an hour being charged for an outfit for ride over the 'beautiful.'

Just Plain Bitro-Phosphate If Nervous and Run Down

"Neurasthenia is nerve exhaustion," says Dr. Frederick Kelle author of medical text books, and is caused by worry, overwork, emotional excitement and excesses of various kinds.

To restore to complete health the men and women whose nervous energy is undermined a pure organic phosphate known to Sayre & Hemphill and all leading druggists as Bitro-Phosphate must be taken freely with meals until the nerve and brain cells are revitalized with this natural element. It is nerve-wrecked people's one hope for a happy useful future.

To The Theatre Goers of The City of Xenia

Today I make the most interesting announcement I have ever made in my career as a theatrical manager.

I believe the information contained in the following statement will be read with intense interest by all who value the best and most artistic in the world of amusement.

I have always faithfully endeavored to bring to my patrons the biggest and the best theatrical attractions of all times, for I know that only the biggest and the best appeal.

Now I am happy and proud to announce that I have contracted with F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest, producers of the world-famous "Chu Chin Chow," whereby that brilliant and gorgeous spectacle of ancient Baghdad, the world's most beautiful production, will appear at the Victory theater for four days, beginning Sunday, Feb. 13, with matinee on Wednesday.

"Chu Chin Chow" is a gigantic and gorgeous musical extravaganza, in 10 scenes, with 18 musical numbers, produced on a scale of colossal grandeur, employing the services of 300 people. It was originally presented in London at His Majesty's Theatre nearly four years ago by Oscar Arche, in association with the late Sir Herbert Tree, and is still playing there to capacity.

The American production of "Chu Chin Chow" was made by Messrs. Comstock and Gest after the payment of the biggest royalty ever known in the theatrical world, in New York more than two years ago, the scenery and costumes being imported from England and being exact duplicates of the originals.

"Chu Chin Chow" ran one entire season in New York at the Century Theatre and then played an entire season in Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and several other big cities.

This great production, once more presented in New York at the Century Theatre in August, for a return engagement, and now embellished with many additional scenes and new costumes, comes here direct from its second engagement on Broadway.

Owing to intense interest in the engagement, MAIL ORDERS for this important theatrical event will now be received. Send remittance with self-addressed stamped envelope for return of tickets, and, as there will unquestionably be an avalanche of mail orders, please name choice of two performances to insure getting seats.

PRICES—Nights—$1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00.
Wednesday Matinee—$1.00, $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50.

Add 10% for War Tax.
I believe the engagement of "Chu Chin Chow" will be the most notable event ever known at the Victory theater.

THE SCANDALOUS ASPERSION OF CHARLES M. SCHWAB'S GOOD NAME.

In the day of our country's direst need—in the day when the sky was dark with forebodings of evil to our brave boys at the front—then it was that the nation's biggest men rallied to her succor. They hurried to the capital and offered their services without thought of pay.

One of these was that magnificent son of genius and constructive enterprise, Mr. Charles M. Schwab, the great iron master; and for ten long months he served his country in a great position for which there had been a crying need, as head of the ship building department of the government.

The humiliation of this big constructive genius, to whose herculean efforts present civilization owes more than it ever can repay for its preservation, is a spectacle that should shame the people he so loyally and efficiently served without money and without price.

General Pershing's insistent cry was for ships, ships, more ships! The world was rocking on the edge of the abyss of inconceivable chaotic doom. Charles M. Schwab provided those ships, Germany was halted, crushed, the world saved!

The testimony of this big American before the congressional committee commands the belief, sympathy and respect of every decent citizen of the country. His indignant denial of having received $260,000, or any other sum for personal expenses while in the Government service was not needed to convince sane men of affairs of his integrity. His emotion, uncontrolled, was the natural reaction of a strong, clean man writhing under the odium of a wretched and sordid imputation which touched his honor more than his honesty. It was the first "stain" on a record of more than forty years of splendid service and achievement.

Not to return one good deed for another is inhuman, but to return evil for good is diabolical, and this was just what Charles M. Schwab's country was doing in publicly charging him with having taken money for his services, which has been thoroughly disproved.

Ingratitude is the sum of all baseness—it is monstrous, and as Shakespeare says for a multitude to be ungrateful makes a monster of the multitude.

But in this particular case we are sure that the multitude is indignant, not at Charles M. Schwab, but at those who so unjustly aspersed his good name.

FREE GARDEN SEEDS FOR ALL, AND ALL IS WELL.

Yesterday's headlines tried to stir the sluggish flow of public interest into a swirl over the passage by the Senate of the packer regulation measure, and the discussion of armaments in the House, and the peace conference assembly in Paris, and a dozen other more or less important domestic and international matters. But the all-important and burning question for the average plug citizen of this land was the passage by the House on Monday, by a vote of 83 to 72, of the amendment to the agricultural appropriation measure providing $300,000 for free seeds to be distributed by members of Congress to their constituents.

This palpitating news item was not heralded by black headlines nor was it played across or up and down the printed page, but it cut more ice in the political destiny of this country than the League of Nations and the tariff and the armament question all lumped into one.

Well does the congressman know. His finger is upon the pulse-beat of his constituency, his ear is close to the ground and he shades his eyes with his hand while he peers at the portents in the political sky. If his seed shipments went out on time, all is well; if they did not, he had better take to the cyclone cella before the storm breaks. A mail sack full of free seeds looms larger before the vision of the average rural community or small-town gaze than the stately walls of a postoffice building bulking two stories high and a hundred and fifty feet wide on the town's principal corner.

It is a strange but true commentary upon human nature, the overpowering effect of congressional seed distribution upon the average citizen. It is the one tangible beneficence from a paternal government to its people. It is the average citizen's one lone dig into the United States treasury. It is a gift into his hand. And he takes a dollar's worth of garden seeds and buys five dollars' worth of agricultural implements and hires a man to plow his back lot and he plants these seeds and blesses his congressman and prays for warm sunshine and recurrent rains. That he only reaps a peck of vegetables from all his expenditure and effort is not the point. The main point is, he has been recognized by his sovereign government. He had enough "drag" with his congressman to be subsidized by a special shipment of free seeds.

Never doubt it. The most important news items of last Monday was that four-line paragraph that told of the passage of the $300,000 free-seed-distribution amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill. Well does the congressman know.—Kansas City Star.

THIS PARLOUS TIME.

It is no time for knocking, or pulling doleful face; predictions dire and shocking are badly out of place. For years our mood was mellow, we gamboled and we pranced; and now we pay the fellow who fiddled while we danced. Now let us be brave critters, and pay the bill in style, and while we take our bitters present a dauntless smile. We're busy readjusting, we'd get back on the track, and many things are busting, and many more must crack; it's courage that we're needing, and patience and good sense, and bosoms that are bleeding should bleed behind the fence. We knew when things were beaming that settlement must come, the day of fate was looming before us, stark and glum; and now that day we're facing, so let's conceal our fears; there is no use disgracing our sex by shedding tears. All things will be adjusted, there are good times in store, the boons in which we trusted will be on deck once more, and he is streaked with yellow who makes a mournful din, now that we pay the fellow who played the violin.

THREE GAME PROGRAM WILL BE STAGED AT RINK WEDNESDAY

A three-game basketball program that promises real interest for the court bugs, will be staged at the rink Wednesday night.

St. Brigid's Meteors, now in the grip of a losing jinx will attempt to come out of their slump with a win over the Comer Manufacturing Company five of Dayton, which aggregation they meet as a part of the Wednesday program.

The new Shamrock Athletic Club team, fresh from its victory over the much touted Beaver Cadets will bring a real attraction to the local floor on the same night when they meet the Springfield Triangles, a lively assemblage of cagers from Clark County, while the St. Brigid's Cadets will furnish the preliminary with another good team.

The Meteors were sailing along at a rapid pace when St. Raphael's High of Springfield, the only team that defeated them last year, bounced them off by the briefest of margins. Last week they dropped another contest, this time to the Dayton Blueprints and to come back this week, Coach Haller is giving them stiff workouts.

The Shamrocks are announcing the addition of Ancil "Yank" Stevens to their lineup. This lad is one of the best forwards ever developed at Central High and has been winning honors for himself at Miami University. He will be home for the balance of the season and his addition to the green and white combination is a step that will be most popular with the fans. The first game will start early.

Mrs. Ida Hamburg, of Brattleboro, Vt., who says she never dreamed there was anything on earth that would do what Tanlac has done for her. Gains twenty-seven pounds.

"I think it is perfectly marvelous the way Tanlac has built me up. Before I began taking it I was in wretched health and only weighed 111 pounds. I now weigh 144 pounds and my health is splendid."

I never dreamed that there was a medicine on earth that would cause me to regain my former weight and health in so short a time, but Tanlac did it and I simply can not tell you how grateful I am to this wonderful medicine.

I suffered for two years from indigestion and dyspepsia and was in a very badly run-down condition. I had a tired worn-out feeling nearly all the time and rarely had any appetite.

At times I would have indigestion so badly that I could hardly breathe. I also suffered from palpitation of the heart, severe headaches and pains in my back but thanks to Tanlac all of these terrible symptoms have left me and I now feel as well as I ever did in my life.

Another thing; I sleep just splendidly at night now and never suffer from nervousness like I used to. Tanlac is certainly a wonderful medicine and I am only too delighted to recommend it to my friends." The above statement was made recently by Mrs. Ida Hamburg, of 316 S. Main street, Brattleboro, Vermont.

Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill, in Yellow Springs by A. Finley, Bowersville, N. K. Bowermeister; Fairfield, Paul P. Young, Osborn, C. J. Logsdon; New Burlington, W. C. Smith.

URGE THAT LETTERS BE MAILED EARLY DURING THE DAY

A nation-wide campaign to induce postal patrons to get mail into the post offices early in the day has been started by the National Federation of Post Office Clerks.

In a statement issued by the clerk organization it is said 75 per cent of all mail handled in post offices does not get into the hands of clerks until after 5 o'clock in the evening.

The practice among business men is asserted of delaying the signing of letters until late in the day results in a peak load congestion at post offices which operates to the disadvantage of the public and imposes much unnecessary night work upon the clerks.

"We want to reduce the peak load of mail by pointing out to mail patrons the advantages of mailing early and often," said a member of the federation. "There is an evening mail congestion in every large post office which could be avoided in part at least, if large mailers would mail early."

"The service handles a million and a half letters every hour. Each letter is handled on an average of eight times which makes the equivalent of twelve million letters every hour of the day and night."

CRIME WAVE DUE TO LOW MENTALITY

Columbus, Jan. 31.—The crime wave is a war waged by those of low mentality against society," declared Dr. H. H. Goddard, head of the Ohio Bureau of Juvenile Research.

Claiming that crime, in most cases is a disease he urged continuance of the parole system.

Crime, he said, is not traceable to clemency of courts or boards of clemency.

Crime exists everywhere. It is world-wide and rampant where mercy was never heard of," said Dr. Goddard.

Attributing responsibility for most of the crime to the State for failing to provide institutions for the treatment of children of low mentality to cure them of the impulse to commit crime, he said that in order to stop crime the cause must be "hit."

TWO TEACHERS FAINT IN ICY SCHOOLROOM

Beverly, Mass., Jan. 31.—Alice Peck, Mary Momoque and Nellie Bronson, teachers at the McKay St. school, Beverly, were so cold that they fainted.

The girl pupils cried from the cold and the tear drops froze on their cheeks. There is plenty of coal and Superintendent Chase is going to investigate the reason why it is so cold in the rooms. The children were sent home.

Our Advice is to Come Early

The Markets

Stocks.
A rather dull market largely dominated by professional is expected during the next two weeks. Price advances and reactions have been intermittent and irregular and will probably continue so. Recent liquidation precludes a sharp general decline in prices. February may witness a moderate decline, as it often does after the traditional January rise. Bank statements continue favorable in the main and the tendency in foreign exchange has been decidedly upward. It the market weakens, it will simply reflect current business conditions, which it outdistanced during early January. Heavy speculative commitments are not warranted at present.

GRAIN.
The trend of the grain market is not altogether clear owing to the conflict of many factors and uncertainty attending them. Export buying is a constructive influence, but no one can state accurately future world requirements. The trend of foreign exchange and easier money conditions encourage exports. Flour demand in the Northwest has improved. On the other hand, farmers show an inclination to market their grain in some quarters and arrivals of corn have reached a high level. The first three weeks of January brought a heavy movement of the five grains to primary markets. Argentina is regarded as a dangerous competitor even through the export tax may add appreciably to the price. Car supply is ample in most regions. A decided upward turn in wheat, carried through a number of consecutive weeks, is improbable for the immediate future.

Livestock.
Demand for beef has suffered by reason of the current industrial depression. Hogs show a better tone. Live mutton continues much depressed with little prospect of immediate recovery. Stock cattle are in improved condition, owing to easier money conditions. Some money released by liquidation of grain and hogs has been put into cattle. Feeders are taking heavy losses on live mutton. Heavy sheep and lambs are a drug on the market. The bureau of markets, in discussing hog receipts, declares it logical to expect at least fairly generous runs of above average weight hogs at western markets during the next six weeks.

Cotton.
Rallies in the cotton market have been diversely regarded as natural reactions in a falling market and the definite ending of the decline. The heaviest liquidation is assuredly upward, but a decided upward trend may not develop until some indefinite time in the future which the bulls do not like to contemplate. The quick absorption of the Belgian loan augurs well for the success of other foreign loans and the stimulation of exports. The textile outlook in this country is fairly encouraging. On the other hand, earnings to January 15 are larger than in recent years. British stocks of the raw staple are very large, exports make a poorer show than last year, textile wages are still unduly high, mild weather has reduced consumers' interest in clothing, and industrial conditions remain depressed.

Wool.
Considerable wool has been sold during the past three weeks and the tendency of dealers is to ask higher prices. Wool of the better grades is most in demand. The British government shows a disposition to resist further decline in the wool market. The wool growers' convention at Salt Lake City discussed the emergency tariff bill and the extension of credit to the growers for the purpose of holding their prices. Dealers believe the manufacturers have no large stocks. Whatever the fate of the emergency tariff, an act taking wool off the free list during the early part of the Harding administration is altogether probable.

Metals.
Paralysis in the iron and steel market is more acute than at any previous time and Birmingham has sold pig iron at $30 a bushel. Sweeping wage reductions and reductions in the prices quoted by the steel corporations are predicted. Mill activity is at low ebb with little substantial business in sight. The suspension of operations makes the promise of delivery on new business difficult and impedes bookings. The industry has not yet reached bottom and no improvement in conditions is foreseen during the next few months. Copper has been weak and quiet, reversing the early trend of the month.

Agriculture.
Various recent proposals for the limitation of naval armaments, principally as affecting Britain, Japan and the United States, meet with the necessary step in the reduction of government expenditures. At the best the government must spend $4,000,000,000 per year during the next five years, judging from present indications. In the face of a huge national debt and heavily increased taxation, the prosecution of a naval program like that of Secretary Daniels seems utterly folly. In immediate effect far from giving a sense of security, it breeds distrust abroad and stimulates naval building by other powers, which in turn leads to further building in this country.

The senate in passing its bill for federal regulation of the meat packers and other agencies of the livestock industry suggests the impending end of a controversy more than a decade old. The bill creates a federal livestock commission of three members appointed by the president to have jurisdiction over the livestock industry, prescribes rules for the conduct of the packing business, stipulates against monopoly, unfair trade practices, participation in unrelated industries, and the like. It permits voluntary licensing of packers, and exempts all persons whose chief business is livestock growing or the production of agricultural products from the provisions of the bill. This last clause gives the farmer complete immunity from all restraints imposed by the bill, while the bill itself fulfills the long cherished hope of many livestock growers that the federal government might one day regulate and supervise the packing industry. The bill contains much promise for the livestock industry, which has suffered long from price fluctuations and uncertainties which it feels are at least partially induced by packer control and administration. Proponents of the bill hope to secure final action in the House before adjournment of the present Congress.

Tariff Bill Delayed
Consideration of appropriation bills in the remaining days of the present session will further delay passage of the Emergency tariff bill, it is believed. Sentiment in the Senate is favorable to the bill with amendments but these amendments, would be apt to cause trouble and delay in conference. Yielding to the pressure of organized dairy interests, the Senate Finance committee advanced the duties on the leading dairy products.

A sane view of the tariff bill and one that commends it to sections of the population not concerned with agricultural production is put forward by the breeders' Gazette, always conservative in its opinion. The Gazette remarks that it favors the present tariff bill "merely as an emergency proposition" and that "considerable time must necessarily elapse before anything like a safe settled policy can be formulated. Most farmers will recognize that any tariff must permit a free and fair exchange of commodities with foreign countries or the United States will lose the advantage of foreign trade."

What increased labor costs mean to the farmer is shown by statistics of the department of Agriculture. Wages paid hired men have doubled in 10 years, tripled in 20 years, and quadrupled in 40 years.

FARMERS WILL NOT BE HELPED BY WAR LEGISLATION, SAID

Washington, Jan. 31.—Not a farmer in the entire country will be able to borrow a dollar from the War Finance Corporation unless directly engaged in export business according to Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, former Secretary of the Treasury.

In a letter to B. F. Moomaw a Virginia farmer, who criticized him for voting against a revival of the corporation, Senator Glass also declared that there is not a cent in the treasury of the corporation, and that to aid exporters it must borrow in the open market, "for use of a single class money that is now available to all classes."

Submitting figures to show that exports in 1920 were greater than ever before, the Senator declared that what is needed now is not credit to finance more exports, but additional markets for them. "The funds of the corporation are not to be lent to farmers for the purpose of holding crops for a higher market or making new crops," the Senator wrote, "but only to tradersmen to sell and ship at prevailing prices. In other words, the avowed purpose of the act is to stimulate an export trade which, for the year just ended, was the greatest of all history, exceeding by $291,000,000 that of the preceding year."

"The War Finance Corporation announced 10 days ago that it was open for business. But not a single export house in the United States dealing in farm products has made application for or inquiry in regard to a loan."

"Politicians who tell the farmers that the fall in the prices of farm products is due to inadequate credits for commercial purpose lack either understanding or truthfulness. And I am sure you would not have me join one class or the other by voting for improvised quick remedies or by practicing deceptions."

CONTRACT PRICES FOR PRINT PAPER REACH HIGHEST MARK EVER KNOWN; NO DROP

New York, Jan. 31.—While the cost of living is sagging, and the cost of production in most lines of business is dropping, American publishers meet with still further price increases.

News print paper contracts for the first quarter of 1921 call for $6.50 per hundredweight. This is the highest figure print paper ever has been sold by contract. The "spot" market price is considerable higher. The largest price increase in history was scored during 1920, and is reflected in the $6.50 contract price American and Canadian paper mills are charging for January, February and March 1921.

Before 1916 the price of news print maintained an almost even level at between $1.92 and $2. It did not pass the latter figure until July 1916 when it began a steady climb, reaching $3.11 in April 1917. About January 1918 there was a slight drop, but by the end of the year the price had gone up to $3.73.

The first $4 contract paper price was reached in December 1919.

In the latter part of 1920 when all other prices were starting downward, print paper continued upward going to $5.66 in November. The 1921 contract price (for January, February and March) is $6.50. This is 50 percent higher than the January (1920) price; it is 100 percent higher than the 1918 average price, and is more than 200 percent higher than print paper ever sold at under contract before the war.

OHIO SENATE CALLS FOR INVESTIGATION OF STATE HIGHWAYS

Columbus, Jan. 31.—Following closely the unanimous action of the House of Representatives calling for a probe of the condition of cattle at the State Prison Farm the Senate has adopted a joint resolution by Senator James R. Hopley, of Bucyrus, calling for a thorough investigation of the State Highway Department. This action followed closely the passage of a bill by Senator Hopley to do away with the Highway Advisory Board which for two years has been pointed to as being more political than efficient. This board was one of the creations of former Governor Cox.

Charges made in the Hopley resolution are that contracts were made "in excess of the market value of materials and in excess of the estimate made for improvement of certain roads of the state, and that said contracts have resulted in financial disadvantage and loss to the state of Ohio."

Collusion is charged among bidders for contracts and "it is currently reported that roads have been constructed and improved by force account and that the state has suffered loss of a large sum of money by reason of collusion which has existed between contractors and sub-contractors, all of which the State Highway department knew or should have known."

GEORGE A. FUDGE DIES ON SATURDAY

George A. Fudge, 81, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Hugh McFadden, on South Whiteman street, at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Death was due to the infirmities of age. He had been an invalid for three years and his illness became serious during the last three weeks.

Mr. Fudge was born in Greene county and had spent practically all of his life here. He was married to Magdalene Shook, November 21, 1868. Surviving are the following children: Harry M. Fudge, Harlan and John, and Mrs. Hugh McFadden, all of this city. Mrs. Lewis Pennwell, of Loveland, and Mrs. Pearl Turner, of Waynesville. One half brother, P. M. Fudge, also survives.

Mr. Fudge was a member of the Lutheran church. Funeral services were held at the home of his son, Harry Fudge, 23 Hivling street, at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon and were in charge of Rev. B. Uhl, pastor of the Lutheran church.

WOULD UNSEAT DEMOCRATS

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Demand for a recount of votes cast in the last election, in the hope of unseating Congressman John W. Rainey, A. J. H. Bath and Stanley Kunz, the only three Democrats elected to the national house of representatives from Illinois, was filed before the election commissioners today by their defeated opponents.

TO TEACH INTERNATIONALISM
A summer school to "educate women in internationalism" will be held in connection with the Congress of the Women's International League to be held in Vienna during the first two weeks in August.

CLUBHOUSE TO COST MILLIONS
A charter has been granted in Massachusetts for "The Durant, Incorporated," a combination clubhouse, hotel and gymnasium for women. The structure will be erected in Boston and will cost several million dollars. Of the 105 women whose names appear on the charter, all but three are wage-earners in business or professions. It is the aim of the incorporators to secure at least 20,000 members.

DISCOVER DEPOSITS OF OIL IN BOLIVIA

Berkeley, Jan. 31.—Wonderful discoveries of oil recently have been made in Bolivia and an American company is declared to have secured concessions there which are about as large as the state of Pennsylvania, says Professor C. E. Chapman, United States exchange professor, who has just returned from a year at the University of Chile. At present he says the new oil fields are

NO DENIAL MADE THAT TUBERCULAR CATTLE ARE IN HERD

Columbus, Jan. 31.—That there are tubercular cattle in the state herd at the London farm; that milk and butter from this herd has been furnished state wards and children at the juvenile research bureau, has not been denied by those in charge of the farm who have been called to testify before the house probe committee.

Charges not refuted are: That there are ninety-two tubercular cattle in the herd of two hundred and forty.

That milk and butter from these tubercular cattle have been furnished state wards and juveniles.

That when the veterinary department of O. S. U. requested a tubercular cow "in the advanced stages" for observation, one has been taken from the herd.

That one cow was sent to O. S. U. this month.

That it was known that cattle in this herd showed reaction when purchased.

That $1.50 a bushel is being charged for corn from one department of the state farm to the other when corn is retailing on the market at 50 cents a bushel.

That there are tubercular cattle at other state institutions in Ohio.

Dr. Theodore E. Burnett, state veterinarian for whom a place was created as "veterinarian of the State Board of administration by Governor and N. E. Shaw, secretary of the state board of Agriculture also a Cox appointee, profess ignorance of the condition.

LINGERING ILLNESS BROUGHT TO CLOSE

John Burtis, 82, died at his home 31 Walnut street, at 12:50 o'clock Sunday afternoon after a lingering illness brought on by advanced age. He had been ill since last April, his condition becoming serious within the last three weeks, and death being due to heart trouble and complications.

Mr. Burtis was born in New Jersey, June 5, 1838, and his marriage to Miss Jane Ludlum, took place in 1867. She survives him with two children, Mrs. Harley Wharton and Edward Burtis, both of this city. Six grand children and two great grand children also survive.

Mr. Burtis served during the Civil War as a member of Company G, 133 O. V. I. Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at ten o'clock and burial will be made at South Lebanon.

PEOPLE OF HAWAII MAKE DONATIONS

New York, Jan. 31.—The plight of the shivering, starving children of Central Europe has so appealed to the people of sunny Hawaii that they have donated $23,317 to the European relief fund to help feed them. A cablegram announcing the amount of the islanders was sent by Alfred Castle, who was appointed chairman for Hawaii by Governor J. McCarthy, at the headquarters of the Relief Council No. 42 Broadway.

If the rest of the country responded with the generosity of the Hawaiians there would be no question as to the raising of the $33,000,000 required to feed the three and one-half million children in Central Europe who are dependent upon America for even one meal of stew, black bread and cocoa a day. For the population of Hawaii is but a trifle in excess of 255,000, more than three quarters of whom are Japanese, Chinese or natives making the per capita donations of the residents most substantial.

BRIEF SERVICES ARE HELD SATURDAY

Brief funeral services for Mrs. Lydia Smith were held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Viola Hackney, near Wilmington, at 12 o'clock noon, Saturday.

ILLINOIS SEWERS GET MILLION DOLLARS' WORTH OF BOOZE

U. S. agents dumping a few of the 32,000 gallons of liquor into the sewers in Waukegan, Ill.

The dumping of a few gallons of hard liquor has been common in the vicinity of Chicago for the past few months, but government agents are believed to have set a world's record at Waukegan, Ill. They dumped 32,000 gallons of alcoholic beverages into the sewers to find its way into Lake Michigan. At the present high price of liquor that means a million dollars lost or rather thrown away. Gloom among the spectators here is as strong as the odor of the booze.

almost inaccessible. England, he declares, is decidedly energetic in securing oil concessions in the South American republics and will shortly control the supply there

English concerns have men in the field continuously looking up every possible oil field. Only by building up the South American countries by ourselves investing in railroads, and the great power projects that are offered and the development of their resources will the United States capture the South American trade.

TEACHERS URGE INFLUENCE OF GOOD TO CHECK CRIME

Lack of proper influence in the home, too many poorly prepared teachers, the overstraining of personal liberty without an equal emphasis on the majesty of the law, and the desire of the public mind for the sensational were some of the reasons attributed by the teachers of the Xenia township schools, for the present crime wave in a meeting in the Township Office Xenia, last Friday.

Discussing causes of the crime wave and methods to combat it, the outstanding facts were brought forth, crime records of this country condemn us as a nation. Chicago it was said, has eight times as many murders as Paris and six times as many as London, although London has four times the population of Chicago.

It was claimed that as a nation, we spend five hundred million dollars more fighting existing crime than all the works of charity, education, and religion spend to prevent crime.

Asserting that criminals are the outgrowth of our present apparent inattention to the youth of the nation one teacher said:

"Every crime and every criminal is prima facie evidence of failure somewhere; criminals are not born, they are made, and they are not self made but fellow made. Pascal called the child a little impulsive being, who like soft clay, cannot resist the hand of the potter; the public mind seems to fatten on the immoral details of a Breckenridge-Pollard case, a Thaw trial or a Cassie Chadwick sensation."

"The home must be the best place to train the rising generation. Some one has said: 'The family life has decayed, due largely to increased desire for ease, idleness, pleasure and sensation, clubs, divorce, second marriages, apartment life, and a constant ridicule and burlesque of the marital relations by the stage and cheap literature and song have weakened society at its base.'"

"Traditional principles of religion and morality as once emphasized in the home have disappeared. These must be returned; commercialized films, warped to every fancy and compromise and filled with shooting looting and impure suggestion direct much of the little thinking that is done nowadays—and it is hazardous, because it will influence the mind of the youth; home restraint is practically gone. The home the school and the church must join hands in earnest to bring about satisfactory results."

The following topics were also discussed: (a) The Project Method of Teaching. (b) Reading Material for our Pupils. (c) What Books Should Teachers Read, why? (d) Causes of the Present Crime Wave and How to Counteract it. (e) Profitable busy work for grades one and two.

UP AT SIX-- FEELING FINE

Red-Blooded Men and Women Get Things Done. Rich Blood Means Vitality

THIN BLOOD MAKES YOU LAZY

Strengthen and Build Up Your Blood with Pepto-Mangan

UP AT SIX ... Men and women who are on the road to big success are not lagging on the way. They are bright and cheerful because their systems are fed with rich, red blood.

Weak blood, thin and sluggish, will never get you anywhere. You would be surprised how many people are just drifting along half alive. They never want to do anything—never get anywhere—because their blood is in bad condition.

The sensible thing to do is to keep the blood pure and full of red corpuscles. Pepto-Mangan will do that for you the way it has for millions of men and women in the past thirty years. Notice the difference after your blood gets plenty of red corpuscles in it. See how you'll pop out of bed early, refreshed and ready to do big things.

But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan. Ask for "Gude's" and be sure 'that the name is on the package. If you prefer tablets, take them. If not, ask for the liquid. Both have the same medicinal value. adv

BUILD NEW BRIDGE WITHOUT APPROACHES

Great Falls, Mont. Jan. 31. — A nice new concrete bridge—in the middle of the Missouri River. Publicity was shunned, praise was negligible, but the howl was wide-spread when citizens of this city discovered that the appropriations for a splendid concrete span across the Missouri River at Tenth street gave them a bridge without an approach and consequently a long trip to another bridge.
After months of work the great structure was completed and when the contractors spoke about being through, the error of a few thousand dollars and a few paragraphs in the specifications were discovered and it was learned that Great Falls had a bridge without an approach.
However, the oversight was negligible in comparison with the cost of the entire structure and the county came to the aid of State and Federal governments and the approaches are now being put in.

ANTIOCH SECURES EVEN BREAK; BOYS WIN, GIRLS LOSE

Antioch Academy secured an even break in two fast and well played games at Kelly Gym Saturday night. The boys trimming St. Raphaels High of Springfield 33 to 11 and the girls losing out to Ross township 13 to 12.

St. Raphaels was out for revenge having lost a previous encounter and the first half was crowded with hard playing with the Academy barely able to hold the advantage, the half ending with the score of 13 to 8. In the second half Antioch succeeded in putting up a better offense and ran their score up to triple that of their opponents.

The Antioch Academy girls went down in defeat to the Ross township girls in one of the best games ever played on the floor. Both teams were very evenly matched and the contest was much faster and also much rougher than the majority. The Ross girls got off to an early lead and were never headed. The score at the end of the first half was 5 to 2. The Academy outplayed their opponents in the final period but could not quite over come the lead of the first half. Inability to make free throws good cost the Academy the game as they were unable to toss a single one of their twelve chances through the nets.

Captain Corry was the individual star of the game and it was her brilliant guarding that kept the score from being larger. Kraute and Cunningham also played well for Antioch while S. Pittstick and Cummings were the stellar performers for Ross.

STINCHCOMB AND HARLEY GET OFFERS

Columbus, O., Jan. 31.—Ohio States two All-American football men, "Onc" Harley and "Pete" Stinchcomb, both of whom will be graduated in June may take up coaching.
Harley has had numerous offers, the most recent from the University of Tennessee. Since it was only for the football season, Harley doesn't look favorably upon it. He takes any coaching berth, it probably will be for the entire year, since he won his letter in football, basketball, baseball and track.
Stinchcomb, on the other hand, has been tendered the athletic directorship of an eastern school, but says he'd rather coach only football. He was a four sport man in high school but has won his letter only in football at Ohio State.

POPPIES FROM SHORE OF LAKE LOUISE TO BLOOM IN QUEEN OF ENGLAND'S GARDEN

When the Duke of Argyll was Governor-General of Canada, his Duchess, the Princess Louise, was fascinated by the beauty of the Canadian Pacific Rockies and it was accepted as a very happy compliment when a large lake of exceptional beauty, discovered in 1883 by Tom Wilson, a far and guide at Banff, was named after her Royal Highness. The lake does indeed appear to have been known to the Indians who called it the "Lake of the Little Fishes." Today the Indians would probably describe it as the "Lake of Golden Poppies" for the Canadian Pacific Railway has planted vast quantities of beautiful Iceland poppies on the shores and hills surrounding the great Chateau Hotel. This poppy is a larva certain that in summer there is now a blaze of brilliant poppy blossoms about the hotel and lake.
When the delegates to the Imperial Press Conference returned last Fall from Canada to England Miss Billington, the one woman delegate, mentioned the exceptional beauty of these poppies to Princess Louise, who expressed a desire to obtain some of the seeds. These were sent to Her Royal Highness in a specially made box of Canadian maple wood, and were accepted with expressions of great delight. The tale of Lake Louise's poppies came to the ears of the Queen, who also received a consignment. Her Majesty was equally delighted and gave orders that the seeds should be planted in the Royal Gardens at Balmoral. There, for many a summer, the Royal Family will be pleasantly reminded of the most exquisitely beautiful spot in the Canadian Rockies.

FARMERS REQUIRED TO FILE INCOME TAX STATEMENTS

Thousands of farmers whose net income for 1920 equaled or exceeded the exemptions of $1000 for single persons and $200 for married persons, will be required to file on or before March 15, 1921, income tax returns for the year 1920.

As an aid to farmers the Bureau of Internal Revenue has prepared a special form 1040F, for recording sales of livestock, produce and a summary of income and expenses. This form should be attached to the taxpayer's individual return on Form 1040 or 1040 A. Full instructions for making out the forms are contained in each.

Under gross income a farmer is required to include all proceeds derived from the sale of farm products whether produced on a farm or purchased for resale. When he exchanges his produce for groceries, clothing and other merchandise he must include in his income the value of the articles received and exchanged. Profit received from the sale of farm land or rent received for the use thereof must also be included.

In determining his net income, upon which the tax is assessed the farmer may deduct all necessary expenses incurred in the operation of his farm during the year. These include cost of cultivation, harvesting and marketing of his crops, the cost of seed and fertilizer used, amount spent in repair to farm buildings other than the dwelling and to fences and machinery. The cost of farm tools used up in the course of the year wages paid to employees other than domestic servants and rent paid for farm land and buildings other than dwelling are deductible items.

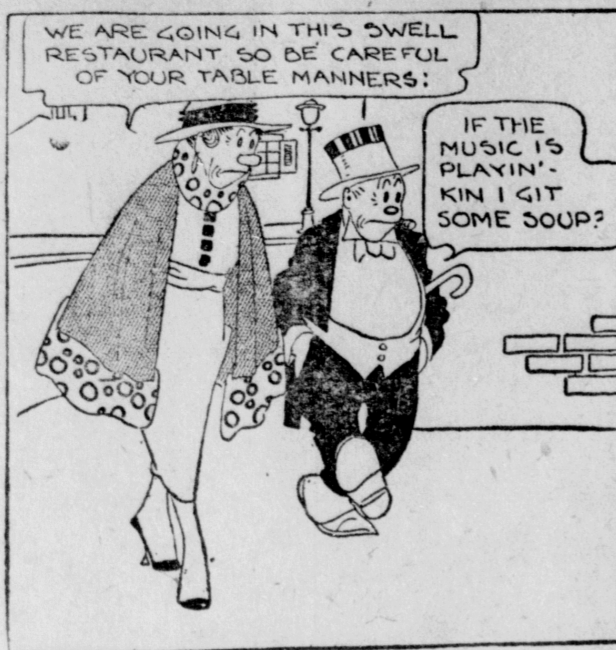

Farmers who keep no records or only records of cash receipts and disbursements should make their returns on the basis of actual receipts but farmers who keep complete accounts and who take inventories at the beginning and end of the year to determine their profits should report on the actual basis. Both methods are fully explained on Form 1040F, copies of which may be obtained from the offices of Collectors of Internal Revenue.

season's road offerings right in their own city, they will turn out for the farce, "The Girl in the Limousine" which through the efforts of the Standard Amusement Company, comes to this city Tuesday evening. The company to produce the popular piece here, is a headline outfit, and this fact is guaranteed by the management. The company is the same that presented this side-splitting farce of A. H. Woods at the Victory Theater in Dayton earlier in the season, and if Elmer Redell can pick the best for his Dayton show house, then patrons are going to have the opportunity of seeing the same class of legitimate productions here.

The piece will be presented here with Jane Iden in the lead a girl whose beauty leaves little to the imagination and a good patronage will insure other high class offerings for this city.

CANDIES.
Chocolate Creams—Two cups of powdered sugar, three-quarters cup water. Boil five minutes. Beat into cream and form in drops. Melt three-quarters cup chocolate scraped in bowl and set over steam to melt. Dip drops in chocolate and place on wax paper.
Fruit Caramels—One-half pound dates, one-half pound figs, one-half cup peanut butter. Clean dates and figs well, put through meat grinder, then mix in peanut butter. Shape in long roll and place in cool place. Cut in small pieces with sharp knife and wrap in wax paper.

SANDWICHES.
A very good filling for sandwiches: Put through the food grinder one-half pound cheese, two small onions; mix with two tablespoons chili sauce. Spread on white or brown bread.

CAKES.
Walnut Loaf Cake—One large cup of sugar, one and one-half cups butter, one and one-half cups of sweet milk, three eggs (beaten separately), two and one-half cups of flour, two teaspoons baking powder, two cups chopped raisins, one cup walnut meats.

It makes a fine cake for Christmas.

Apple Sauce Cakes—One cup apple sauce, one cup sugar, a little nutmeg (grated), one teaspoon cocoa, one teaspoon cinnamon, one-third cup butter (melted), one teaspoon soda, flour enough to make a batter that will drop from spoon. Bake in gem tins.
Icing: One cup brown sugar, one teaspoon cocoa, milk enough to moisten.

TO PREPARE AND COOK WILD GAME.

Raccoon—Only young and tender animals used.
First clean, cut into pieces and wash thoroughly, removing all fat. Cover with cold salted water and let stand several hours or overnight. Then put into kettle with sufficient boiling water to cover; add one teaspoon soda and let boil fifteen minutes. Pour off water and wash.

Return to stove with more boiling water added, this time with salt to season. Let cook until tender. Remove from water, dip each piece in cornmeal and fry.

Woodchuck or Groundhog—Also the best way of cooking rabbits—Wash, clean thoroughly and cut into pieces. Let stand in salted water several hours or overnight. Put into deep frying pan a generous amount of shortening (lard and butter mixed is best). Let this get hot, and into it place the pieces of woodchuck or rabbit; salt and pepper; let fry a few minutes and turn pieces. Then add a small amount of water, cover pan and let cook until done, turning pieces and adding water as it cooks down. Lastly, when done, remove cover and let fry brown.

Opussum—This is not served as it is not considered clean food. The animal is a scavenger.

DICK MAKES AN ENEMY

CHAPTER 78
The next week when Dick came home I questioned him about the trouble at the bank.

"We found the man. The examiner said I did. He had very cleverly doctored the books, and if I had not had so much experience with involved accounts at the office I perhaps should not have found the trouble—at least not so quickly."

"What did they do with him?"
"Locked him up. He had stolen $30,000. He had been taking it for years, in dribbles. Mr. Peabody is pleased that I found it out, but is disposed to be lenient with the man."

"Oh, I hope so!"
"Well, I don't know. He's rather a hard customer, I imagine. He vows he'll have his revenge on me for showing him up."

"What could he do?" I was at once frightened for Dick.

"Nothing! So don't worry your little head."

I thought about it for a few days, then as nothing happened, I forgot all about it.

After banking hours Dick went house hunting. He was very anxious for me to be with him, and although Mother was glad to have Junior and me with her she didn't object when he explained that he hated boarding, was lonely, and had no place to spend his evenings.

He always had been a peculiar man about being left alone. He never would remain in the house more than a few minutes if he came home and found me out. And I think at this time his thoughts were anything but good company. Then, too, he naturally must have missed the excitement of a broker's office, the after 3 o'clock games of chance he, in the last year, had joined in until dinner time. He seemed very nervous, although he tried to hide it from me.

"I don't wonder he wants his own home, his own table. You are a wonderful cook, Nan—far better than I ever was. I believe cooks, like artists, are born, not made. When you were a tiny girl and we had unexpected company, you could go into the kitchen and make a quick desert and it would be delicious."

"It never seemed like work to me, perhaps that's the reason I do it so well. But the clearing away, that is the part I dislike."

"We all dislike washing dishes. I think. It seems to be the one thing about housekeeping we agree upon."

"Mrs. Gray often used to come in and help me after we had had company—dry the dishes while I washed them, and chat at the same time."

"She was a remarkable woman. I would like to have known her better."

Mother had met her when visiting us.

"When I can, some day after we get on our feet, I am going to ask her to visit us. She loved Junior almost as if he were her grandson, instead of yours."

"Well, I am glad he isn't! The little rogue. I wonder where he is? When he is so quiet he is apt to be in some mischief. Better look out and see."

Junior was not to be seen, so I called several times. Often he would hide, then would burst out at us, laughing to think he had successfully eluded us. But his childish pranks always amused us although we pretended to be frightened, to fear he was lost.

"Junior—Junior!" I called again and again. The little boy next door put his face between the paling and asked:

"Can't you find him?"
"No! Have you seen him? Do you know where he is?"
"Nope! He said he was going to see his daddy some day. Perhaps he's went."

"Oh, no! He was going with me." Mother came to the door.

"Haven't you found him yet?"
"No. Where do you suppose the little rascal has hidden this time?"

"I can't imagine," and she also called loudly.

"Good morning?" A man driving a load of hay stopped in front of the house. "If you're calling a small boy, he's up the road a piece. I offered to give him a ride, but he said he was going to see his daddy." We thanked the man and I hurried after Junior.

I caught up with him in a short while and brought him back crying bitterly. Mother said:

"I guess it is as well that you go to Lansing soon, that your plan is all ready to put into operation. Junior seems determined to go to his father. I don't see what put the idea into his head."

"You said daddy was lonesome," Junior whailed, so throwing the onus of his escapade upon me. "I don't want my daddy to be lonesome, so I was going to go to stay with him."

"We'll both go to him in a few days, dear. Mother doesn't want him to be lonesome either, and Mother is going to help him."

"How surprised he will be when he knows," Mother said, smiling at us. (To Be Continued.)

OFFICIAL PROBE INTO BERGDOLL AFFAIRS IS MADE

Will Try Two Americans
By American Court
Martial.

VICTIM LAYS LOW
Feeling Against America
Running High In Little Town.

Eberbach, Germany, Jan. 31.—Colonel Kyle Rucker, judge advocate of the American army of occupation at Coblenz, has begun an investigation of the attempt to kidnap Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, of Philadelphia, American millionaire draft dodger, and it was reported today that Colonel Rucker had asked for the release of the two American prisoners—Charles Neaf, of Baltimore and Frank Zimmer, of Denver—promising that they would be tried by an American court martial.

Colonel Bagby of the United States military intelligence office at Coblenz, was quoted as saying that the two prisoners were not connected with the military intelligence section, such matters as the Bergdoll incident coming under the department of criminal investigation of the provost marshal. Bergdoll declares that he has no intention of becoming a German citizen. On the contrary, he hopes to return to the United States possibly this year. He said he had reason to believe from statements made to him by "spies" that a decree of amnesty for political prisoners will be proclaimed at Washington after the Harding administration takes office in March which would enable him to go back to Philadelphia.

(Note: Premier Remmele, of Baden, in an announcement in the Baden diet last Thursday said that both Bergdoll and his chauffeur Eugene Stecher had become naturalized German citizens.) Unlike Bergdoll, the chauffeur, Eugene Stecher, "Bergdoll's Friday," has taken out German citizenship papers and says he "never wants to see America again as long as he lives."

Stecher was born in Baden, but was taken to the United States at the age of five by his parents. Bergdoll is "Hero" and "martyr" in the eyes of many of the Eberbach townsfolk. But this hero worship is giving away to anti-American feeling and a wave of "sympathy" that is nearly hysterical in its intensity. The latter reminds one of the war time. The International News Service correspondent who was the first American to reach Eberbach following the attempt to shoot Bergdoll, found it expedient to report to the police immediately to prove his identity.

This high feeling has been intensified by an alleged statement attributed to Neaf "that if he were imprisoned a company of American soldiers would come from Coblenz and release him." This together with the shooting during the attempt to seize the American refugees has caused much excitement.

The people are especially bitter because one of the bullets, evidently intended for Bergdoll wounded a 16 year old girl, Frulein Yena Link. In the midst of all this excitement Bergdoll and Stecher have been living quietly and apparently indifferent to the horns' nest that was stirred up about them. But their tranquility has now been shaken.

Bergdoll feared a repetition of the attempt to seize him and told the police that he planned "to lay low." The police replied that he had "better make himself as invisible as possible," so Bergdoll has given up his rooms in the hotel owned by his cousin, Frau Bohrmann.

CLEVELAND REDY TO FIGHT TO LIMIT ON GAS QUESTION

Fail To Reach Agreement
On New Rates It Is Declared.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 31.—Mayor Fitzgerald announced this morning that the city was prepared to go to the mat with East Ohio Gas company following a failure of all attempts to reach an agreement upon new gas rates when the present franchise expires Feb. 6. He declared that court action would be taken to prevent a shutoff in the supply and that the city would not accept the proposal of the company to continue the supply under the present arrangement until May 1. The city council recently passed an ordinance providing for a continuance of the present flat rate of 35 cents a thousands for larger quantities. Sliding scale running from 50 cents a thousand for small consumers to $1 a thousand for larger quantities.

VICTOR BERGER WINS APPEAL TO U.S. COURT

Socialist Leader Wins Case
—Verdict Is Set Aside.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Victor L. Berger, socialist leader, convicted and sentenced by Federal Judge Landis at Chicago, to 20 years imprisonment for alleged violation of the espionage act, today won his appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court against the conviction and sentence on the ground of prejudice on the part of Judge Landis. The supreme court decided that Judge Landis should not have sat in the case when challenged on the ground of personal bias or prejudice but should have given way to another judge to hear the case. The conviction and verdict were set aside by the decision of the supreme court. It is not announced whether there will be a retrial for Berger by the government. The opinion was read by Justice McKenna.

FIREMEN LOSE LIVES AS WALL COLLAPSES

Three Fighters Crushed To Death and 19 Others Injured
When Brick Wall Crashed in Big Fire in Providence, Rhode Island

Providence, R. I., Jan. 31.—Three firemen were instantly killed and nineteen others were seriously injured today when a brick wall collapsed at the height of a fire which destroyed the Matthews building a business block at No. 99-103 Washington street.

The wall fell with a crash that could be heard for miles. Clemence Street offered the best location from which to fight the blaze. The twenty-two firemen buried under the falling wall were on this store on fire escapes on the side of the building which parallels that street.

Without a moment's warning, the two story wall began to sway. Some firemen jumped. The others held their positions. The heavy wall fell burying the 22 men beneath tons of brick and stone.

Other firemen and police working on the other side of the block temporarily abandoned the fighting of the flames to render aid to the dead and dying firemen. Hurried telephone calls were sent for doctors, nurses and priests.

PRESIDENT TURNS DOWN AMNESTY FOR EUGENE DEBS

Refuses To Release Socialist
On February 12, It Is Learned.

Washington, Jan. 31.—President Wilson has denied a commutation of sentence for Eugene V. Debs, socialist leader. The White House announced today. Attorney General Palmer recommended to the president that Debs, who is now serving a sentence for violation of the espionage act should be released on Feb. 12.

The president's action was swift and terse. Attorney Gen. Palmer submitted his recommendation for clemency Saturday night. It went to the president this morning for consideration.

He wrote across the face of the papers merely "denied, W. W." and ordered it returned to the department of justice.

So far as is known the president gave no reason for turning down the down the Attorney General's recommendation. His consideration of the petition must necessarily have been brief as the papers did not reach him until this forenoon.

FEAR THAT LIVES WERE LOST WHEN GALE SWEEPS SEAS

Most Violent Storm In History
Of North Pacific Reported.

Aberdeen, Wn., Jan. 31.—Fears that loss of lives and ships may have resulted from the terrific gale that swept the North Pacific seas late yesterday were expressed today by shipping men.

Word is anxiously awaited from the North Head Naval radio station regarding the effects of the most violent gale in the history of the North Pacific. The naval radio station at North Head was put out of commission by the windstorm but was restored to operation today.

The terrific windstorm, which assumed the proportions of a cyclone, swept along the Washington coast leaving death and ruin in its wake. One man was killed and four seriously injured in this city.

It was reported that thousands of dollars in damage was done to buildings and stores in Aberdeen and Hoquiam.

FIND SHORTAGE OF $15,000 IN ACCOUNTS

Marion, Jan. 31.—A shortage of more than $15,000 exists in the accounts of Harry C. Forry, who resigned last week after her had staged a fake bandit hold up in the treasurer's office, according to a statement made today by the county prosecutor, Fred W. Warner. The prosecutor says that Forry made a signed confession that he had been stealing from the county for a period of five years. He began stealing according to Warner, when he was appointed deputy county treasurer, five years ago and kept it up when he was elected treasurer more than a year ago. How he covered up his speculations is not revealed, but it is stated by officials that de "doctor" his books so cleverly that it would have been difficult for experts to discover them.

Political Fireworks Accompany
End of Emergency
Act in Senate.

CHARGES ARE MADE

Both Sides Indulge In Recriminations As End Nears.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Political pyrotechnics reminiscent of those exploded in last year's campaign accompanied the death knell of the emergency tariff bill in the senate today.

Republican leaders charged the bill's Democratic opponents with encompassing its defeat by conducting a filibuster. Democratic leaders retorted that the Republicans never had any sincere intentions of passing it.

Both sides indulged in recriminations as it became evident that Republican leaders intended to abandon the measure and permit it to rest on the senate calendar while they tackled the difficult job of disposing of 12 appropriation bills during the four weeks which are all that remain of the present session.

Doubt Expressed.

Several Republicans in charge of the majority program expressed grave doubt if the senate would be able to pass the army and navy appropriations bill before March 4. They said they would not be surprised if these two measures, as well as a mass of other legislation were bequeathed to the new administration and the new congress.

Senator Penrose, Republican of Pennsylvania, chairman of the senate finance committee was selected to make the first move in the Republican plan to sidetrack the tariff measure. Penrose originally opposed the bill as it was passed by the house. He agreed subsequently to sponsor it although he is said to have entertained no illusions, after it was weighed down with amendments in his committee that it would ever become a law at this session.

Penrose said a Democratic filibuster was to blame for failure to vote on the bill, which he predicted, would secure its passage. His Democratic opponents charged he was no more desirous of the bill's passage than they were. The verbal exchanges between Penrose and the Democratic senators promised to wax hotter as today's session proceeded.

LITTLE HOPE FELT FOR YOUNG WOMAN

Columbus, Jan. 31.—The death of her father, Joseph Ryerson, 65, contractor, physicians say, has lessened the chances for the recovery of Mrs. Florence Ryerson Saunders, 20. Her death is expected in a few hours. Mrs. Saunders and her father were shot by her husband, Hardie J. Saunders, 29, who, in his cell at city prison, has expressed sorrow for his rash deed, committed at the home of his wife's parents Friday when Mrs. Saunders refused to withdraw her suit for divorce.

INDEMNITY NOTE OF ALLIES NOW IN BERLIN

Berlin, Jan. 31.—The allied note containing the indemnity and disarmament decision approved by the supreme council at Paris was received here today.

The allies' note was transmitted by Charles Bergmann, a member of the German delegation in Paris, to whom it was submitted by the allies on Sunday.

BLAME BLACK HAND FOR EXPLOSION

Sharon, Pa., Jan. 31.—The "Black Hand" is believed to be responsible for the partial demolition of the Messina Brothers' wholesale fruit establishment, a three-story brick building and the shattering of hundreds of windows in nearby buildings, as the result of the explosion of two bombs early Sunday.

The plotters placed two big cans of powder in the main entrance of the Messina building and then were whisked away in a closed automobile. It is said that James Messina, an Italian, had received a threatening letter declaring that the bombs would be exploded and was waiting for the plotters when they placed the bombs. He and his family occupied the third floor of the building.

CHURCH SHOW MOVIES

Springfield, Jan. 31.—Church officials are now realizing the value of the moving picture in general educational and religious work. The Central M. E. Church has purchased a moving picture machine. The films are being used at the Covenant Presbyterian church on special occasions with addresses on advanced work along missionary and welfare lines.

BANK ROBBERS SHOOT DETECTIVES; ESCAPE

Robbers Hold Up Detroit Bank and Get Away With $13,000 After Wounding Three Detectives Who Attempt To Stop Them.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 31.— Three detectives were shot down and are in a serious condition in Receiving hospital when they attempted to prevent a hold up by three armed men of the William P. Morton brokerage company today. The robbers shot their way out and escaped with $13,000 in bonds.

The men entered the company's offices shortly after the firm opened for business and covered the employees with revolvers. Unseen a clerk touched a burglary alarm and the three detectives responded reaching the scene of the robbery before the highwaymen had completed their work. As the officers commanded the men to surrender the bandits opened fire and the three detectives fell.

The shooting took place on Campus Martius square, in the center of Detroit's business section. Hundreds of early shoppers and office workers were within sight of the offices which are on the ground floor when the robbery took place and observed the flight of the bandits. Twenty five automobiles containing 200 policemen armed with riot guns were rushed in pursuit of the robbers. The license number of the machine was noted and warnings sent to all nearby towns.

SOLDIERS' BONUS RESOLUTION EXPECTED TO PASS STATE SENATE ON TUESDAY

Legislative Program For This Week Crammed Full Of Activities—Taft Bill On City Bonds Before the House.

Columbus, Jan. 31.—The legislative program for this week is crammed full of activities.

The soldiers' bonus resolution is expected to pass the senate tomorrow. At the same time the house is scheduled to call up for passage the Taft bill providing for the issuance of bonds by municipalities to meet current operating expenses.

On Wednesday afternoon the house is expected to concur in the action of the senate and pass the Miller bill providing for a state prohibition commissioner and for other dry enforcement machinery and for search and seizure where residences are illegally used in the manufacture and use of illicit liquors.

The Hopley bill, an emergency measure, providing for the abolition of the state highway advisory board, is expected to be reported out favorably this week by the house highways committee. The bill has passed the senate.

The house committee probing charges that milk from tubercular cows at the state prison farm, Madison county, was served to patients at state institutions and the cows slaughtered and their meat sold to complete its work this week. The committee is expected, will follow up a report of its findings with the introduction of a bill prohibiting the use of milk and the sale of meat from tubercular cows.

Before the week is half gone, both senate and house are expected to adopt the Hopley resolution providing for a joint legislative committee to prove charges of irregularities in connection with the operation of the state highway department during the past several years. The committee is planned will launch its investigation late this week or early next.

The Pence emergency bill, taxing whiskey and other liquors before removal from bond if a personal property tax was not previously paid is slated for passage in the senate tomorrow.

LOCATE KIDNAPED WOMAN IN CABIN NEAR LOS ANGELES

Mrs. Witherell Health
Good—Two Arrests
Are Made.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 31.—Mrs. Gladys Witherell, wife of O. S. Witherell, who was kidnapped last Tuesday was rescued at 4:30 o'clock this morning in a cabin thirty miles east of this city according to reports to police headquarters. Mrs. Witherell was said to be well.

Two men who gave the names of A. W. Carr and Floyd Carr were arrested by the Los Angeles police who affected the rescue. The cabin in which Mrs. Witherell was found was in an isolated canyon in the foothills east of this city. It is believed she was taken there immediately after being kidnapped and has been held there since.

The rescue of Mrs. Witherell ended a search that has engaged hundreds of police, detectives and private citizens since her disappearance. Rewards aggregating more than $3,000 had been offered for her recovery.

It was through the vigilance of a telephone operator that a clew to the "nest" of the abductors was discovered. O. S. Witherell, husband of the kidnapped woman, was called to his telephone a few minutes before midnight and a man began demanding the payment of $20,000 ransom or the death of his wife by violent means.

Recognizing the number of Witherell's telephone and over hearing a few words of the conversation the operator transmitted the information to the operator at Police headquarters.

Officers were dispatched on a hurry call to a downtown drug store, where they covered the man who telephoned with their revolvers just as he started to leave the telephone booth. He was searched on the spot and an automatic pistol and two vials of chloroform found on him.

The prisoner was subjected to several terrific cross examinations and finally weakened, making a complete confession implicating several men in the kidnapping plot. These, he said, composed an organized gang of kidnapers.

BREAKS ICE TO KILL SELF

Urichville, I., Jan. 31.—The body of John Baker, 45 years old, money order clerk in the Urichville Post office, was recovered several hours after he had broke ice on Stillwater Creek to end his life. His foot prints led rescuers to the creek bank, where Baker had left his hat and coat. Overwork had affected him mentally, relatives said.

RAILROADS WILL APPEAL TO U. S. BOARD FOR AID

Expect To Present Plea
For Reduction In Wages.

STRIKE AT AGREEMENT

Rail Chiefs Want Abrogation
Of National Understanding.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Railroads of the United States, through the labor committee of the American Association of Railway Executives, are expected to present their plea for a reduction in the wages paid railroad employees to the United States Railway Wage Labor Board today. The appeal to the labor board will climax a series of conferences that have been in session here since Thursday.

The first blow of the railway chiefs will be struck directly at the present national agreement, entered into while the railroads were under federal control, according to an outline of the plan of the railway executives that became public here today. Abrogation of the national agreement will be the first demand.

Authority for an immediate cut in the wages paid common labor will be asked, it is declared, and the wage scale of other classes of railway employees will be permitted to remain as it now is for ninety days, contingent upon abrogation of the national agreement. Wages of common, or track laborers, of whom there are more than 500,000 in the United States will be cut to the level of the wage scale prevailing in the communities where they are employed.

In their plea for abrogation of the national agreement the railroads will contend, it is declared, that "penalty payments" imposed by this agreement are costing the railroads $2,500,000 per year. This sum, the railroads assert, is paid out annually for work that is never performed. As an illustration it is cited that a workman who is compelled to work through his lunch hour must be paid double time for the hour, even though he is allowed a lunch hour later in the day.

A return to the piece work system in railway shops also is to be asked, it is asserted.

Railroads claim that since the shop work was put on a time basis there has been an appreciable falling off in production.

The railway labor board it is expected to hear the plea of railway heads but later opportunity will be given the railway unions to present their arguments in opposition to the petition of the roads. Heads of the various railway brotherhoods are certain to oppose vigorously the proposed wage reductions.

ADDITION OF EXTRA POLICEMAN IN CITY IS NOT FEASIBLE

That the addition of one extra policeman is impossible due to the city's financial condition, and that an increase of one man only would accrue in little material benefit, was the opinion of the city commission in regard to a letter received by that body from the Chamber of Commerce asking for additional police protection.

The letter read at the Commission meeting and received from L. C. Tingley, former secretary of the Chamber of Commerce is as follows: "Several people in this organization have taken the matter up with me, in the past few weeks, of additional police protection in the city of Xenia as a protection against this present crime wave that is sweeping the country."

"It has been brought to the attention of several of the officers of this organization that the Honorable City Commission might be of consideration to the community if it could see fit at this time to add an extra policeman to the force for the next few months at least."

As the appropriation ordinance for the coming year has already been passed fixing the distribution of money within the city's income, another policeman could not be added to the force and the city still keep in its income, it was pointed out at the commission meeting. It was also believed that the addition of a policeman was not enough of an essential to require a sacrifice in other departments.

It was further pointed out that the city now has 35 per cent more street lights operating, including a number of lights in alleys, than was the case in 1917 and that with the telephone police call box system and the addition of a motorcycle policeman, the department is better than before. It was the opinion of the commission that the addition of one man to the department would not add to the protection of the city as it would take more policemen to patrol the entire city.

OCEAN YACHT RACE WILL DRAW TEN U. S. CRAFT, SAID

Offer Of King Albert Of Belgium Attracts Notice

New York, Jan. 31.—The prospect of another ocean yacht race as a result of the offer of King Albert of Belgium for a race from Sandy Hook to Ostend, caused speculation today regarding the possible number of American entries. There are 26 American yachts, according to yachtsmen here, that would be eligible for a trans-Atlantic race. Not all of these yachts are in commission however, and several being auxiliary schooners, would have to have their engines sealed. The Atlantic II, winner of the 1905 race is now owned by James C. and Nicholas F. Brady and probably will be entered for the Belgium trophy. As many as eight or ten American entries are expected.

OVERTURNED LAMP RESULTS IN FIRE

Akron, Jan. 31.—Overturning of a lamp left burning in the home when the parents went to visit a neighbor is said by Sheriff Pat Hutchison to have caused the fire that brought death to the two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Weingartner, on the outskirts of the city last night.

The baby's body was found underneath the bed where it had crawled in its desperate effort to get away from the fire. The parents at a neighbor's house three quarters of a mile away noticed the flames shooting from the building and hurried home. The father was severely burned in an effort to save the baby.

PROPERTY HOLDERS TO VOTE ON PLAN TO REPAIR STREETS

Whether people living on non-paved streets want their streets repaired by special assessment, will be decided soon through petitions to be presented to property owners on those streets.

This was decided upon at the meeting of the city commission Friday evening, at which time it was brought up that the continual freezing and thawing is playing havoc with gravel streets.

The city now has a paving program for next year pending the program to include a number of important streets now unpaved, and including East Church street, East Second, East Market, East Third, Walnut and other streets. However pending the consummation of this paving the streets now unpaved are in a bad condition.

It is the belief of the city administration that it is a waste of time and money to attempt to temporarily repair these streets through the addition of cinders or gravel, thrown in the mud holes. To repair the streets right so that they will last until any paving program projected can be concluded, it is thought the best plan is to regrade and resurface the streets.

For this purpose petitions will be presented to the property owners on the streets in question the signing of which will express a desire that the street be repaired, at a cost, it is estimated of less than $1 per front foot. The streets will be graded first and then a gravel road bed laid, with drainage and culverts. The cost spread out over a period of ten years would be slight, as a total of $50,000 raised by special assessments would repair all such streets in the city.

Should the majority of property holders desire such repair work, the work will probably be done this spring.

FIRE SCARE ROUSES OCCUPANTS OF DODDS APARTMENTS

What turned out to be a tempest in a tea pot resulted from what really was "a conflagration in a pan" at the Dodds Apartment early Sunday morning.

Residents were aroused early by the strong smell of smoke. The noise of hastening occupants in padded bed room slippers, scantily dressed apartment dwellers, cries and telephone rings, contributed to the general alarm of fire.

The presence of the department was all that was needed to present the complete touch of the early morning apartment fire, the front page story, the list of injured, the statement of the fire chief and the amount of insurance carried. And the department would have been called a moment later had not the personal investigation of occupants discovered that a pan of tea towels, forgotten and left on the stove overnight in the apartment of William Dodds, former Mayor, caused all the fire scare. The water having boiled away the towels burned up in the pan, without further damage than their own total loss.

The services were in charge of her pastor, the Rev. Charles Proudfoot and a quartette composed of Mrs. Graham Bryson, Mrs. Harvey Collins, Harvey Collins and William Anderson, sang the 103rd and the 23rd Psalms.

Burial was made in the family lot in Woodland cemetery, the pall bearers being T. D. Kyle, Walter Ferguson, Frank Tarbox, Graham Bryson, D. M. Kyle and Harold Bryson. Mrs. Matthew Donaldson of Pittsburg, was among friends from a distance present.

SEVER CONNECTIONS WITH COAL COMPANY

F. W. Walker and Miss Glenna Barrows have severed their connection with the Walker Coal Company, according to an announcement just made.

With the purchase of the coal business of Mr. Walker by J. J. Stout, some time ago, both Mr. Walker and Miss Barrows, who was employed as bookkeeper, have retained their connection with the firm, until Mr. Stout became acquainted with the business.

Mr. Walker remains his connection with the Walker Transfer Company, which was not included in the purchase of the coal business, and will still operate his trucks.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hornick of East Third street, have been bereaved by the death of their infant daughter Catherine Marie, born Thursday. Burial was made Friday at the Catholic cemetery.

FIGHT OVER BARBER EQUIPMENT LEADS TO COMMON PLEAS COURT

A fight over barbershop equipment being used under lease by Harvey Coates and Hugh McFadden; as the Coates & McFadden barber shop, resulted in part of the equipment being torn out of the shop Monday by Rufus M. Mullen, owner, and the subsequent filing of an injunction and damage suit in Common Pleas Court.

The suit, filed by Attorneys Miller & Finney, is titled C. H. Coates against R. M. Mullen and H. L. Dice, the latter being the carpenter employed by Mullen, and the suit asks for damages due to the plaintiff for interruption and inconvenience in the operation of his business.

The case grew out of the ownership of the barbershop equipment by Mullen and its lease by Coates and McFadden. When Rufus M. Mullen left the barber business to devote all of his time to the Mullen-Jenkins Tobacco Company, he sublet the room he was occupying in the Allen building to Coates & McFadden, including the barber equipment.

Recently the Mullen-Jenkins Tobacco Company opened up a cigar and tobacco retail store on East Main street and within the last weeks, began remodeling work on that room, preparatory to opening up a barbershop. This work, it is understood, grew out of the action of the Coates & McFadden firm in leasing direct from Miss Clara Allen, owner of the building, the room they occupy. As the back bars, stationary washstand, furniture and fixtures belonged to Mullen he made known his intention of removing them to his new shop, and Coates & McFadden immediately purchased new equipment with the intention of having it installed before the lease on the old equipment should expire. The lease will not expire until February 12, Coates said Monday.

Monday morning carpenters employed by Mullen began taking out the equipment, first removing the stationary washstand and cutting off all hot and cold water from the barbershop, and then taking out all the mirrors on the back bar on one side. The action led to the subsequent injunction suit and suit for damages. A temporary restraining order was allowed by Judge M. J. Hartley and work was stopped before noon Monday.

Monday afternoon, barbers were using for shaving water, buckets of hot water carried into the shop and patrons for shampoos were having their heads ducked into the buckets to remove the lather. Despite the handicaps the shop is still open for business and barbers are working as formerly although seriously inconvenienced.

The new fixtures ordered by Coates & McFadden were shipped from St. Louis last Friday and are expected to arrive here before the lease runs out Feb. 12.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT CHURCH IN HONOR OF JAMES JEFFRIES

James Jeffries, Xenia's oldest citizen, celebrated his 100th birthday Sunday by attending the services at the First M. E. Church.

Although he had insisted that he wanted to walk to the church from his West Second street home, as he had done many times in the past, owing to the rainy weather he consented to ride, and was brought to the church by J. H. Whitmer.

Rev. G. A. Scott, pastor of the First M. E. Church, and last of a long line of ministers whom Mr. Jeffries has seen occupy the pulpit in his church, preached a sermon at the regular service that was appropriate to the occasion.

Seated by his side on the platform in front of the congregation, was Mr. Jeffries, the church's oldest and still one of its most enthusiastic members. During the musical program, Mr. Jeffries contributed with a violin solo having brought his beloved instrument to the edifice with him.

One hundred red roses, significant of the one hundred birthdays he has enjoyed, were presented to him by Professor W. S. Sackett who was chairman of the church committee to arrange for the celebration. In speaking a few words at the request of Rev. Scott, Mr. Jeffries thanked the official board of the church for its kindness and asked the blessing of God upon all of the congregation.

At his home on West Second street following the services, Mr. Jeffries was the central figure in a family gathering that attended dinner at the Jeffries home. During the entire day many friends from this and other cities dropped in to call and chat with Mr. Jeffries. Among his visitors on his birthday were the following relatives and friends: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jeffries and son and daughter, of Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. William Jeffries of Xenia, Mrs. Alpha Jeffries, son and two daughters and William Carroll of Piqua, Mrs. Mary Harbrocht, Mrs. Jeffries' sister, from Cincinnati, Al Zeiner, of Jamestown, Mrs. Charles Katz, of Springfield, Henry Petz, Paul Petz, Mr. and Mrs. Elton Smith, Rev. G. A. Scott, Rev. B. B. Uhl, Herbert Davis, Miss Babe Rader, Mrs. Edward Meahl, and four daughters, Mrs. Curtis Jeffries and daughter of Dayton, and grandson, Earl Jeffries of Xenia.

Mrs. George Barnes, Clarence and Nelson Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. George Jeffries, Mrs. John Eley, Mrs. Mary Heathcock, Ellen McCurran, Robert, Dorothy and Catherine Downs, John A. Beatty, Effie Rain, Ralph Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Webber, John Kennedy, James Curlett, Miss Lida Maxey, Edwin Maxey and Elnora Maxey.

Besides those who visited him personally there were many cards and letters from friends near and far expressing their well wishes to Mr. Jeffries.

FINED BY COURT

Tom Valentine, colored, was fined $5 and costs by Judge E. Dawson Smith in Police Court Monday morning when he pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness.

CHORUS GIRLS AND NEWSPAPER MEN AID TO BE MODELS

New York, Jan. 31. — The crime wave in New York has been taken apart and inspected with some interesting results according to John J. Lyons, secretary of state. And first let it be known that newspaper men and chorus girls walk pretty nearly 100 percent within the legal "thou shalt not" lines. Only one chorus girl has been brought up before a judge last year and the newspaper profession is represented by one each of the following: Publisher, editor, reporter, correspondent and advertising writer.

Clerks and chauffeurs, as a class, break the law most frequently. The two vocations ran a dead heat last year with 381 each.

PRESBYTERIANS ISSUE CALL TO MINISTER

Rev. Louis Lee, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Evanston, a suburb of Cincinnati was extended a call to the pastorate of the local Presbyterian Church at a congregational meeting of the local church held Sunday.

The vote to extend the call to Rev. Lee was unanimous on the part of the congregation. Rev. Lee preached at the local church two weeks ago, and although he was not a candidate for the local pastorate, he made such a favorable impression upon members of the church here, that they immediately decided to issue a call to him.

Rev. Lee will preach at the Presbyterian Church here Wednesday evening at which time a large attendance of members of the congregation is desired. Following the services, he will confer with members of the official board of the church and it is hoped at that time, that he will decide to accept the local pastorate.

Rev. Lee is married and has two children. The local church has been without a pastor since last September, when Rev. J. O. C. McCracken resigned to accept another call.

ELEVEN DIE WHEN HOTEL DESTROYED BY FIRE IN EAST

Hoboken, N. J., Jan. 31.—Eleven persons were burned to death Sunday in a fire which destroyed the Hotel Colonial here.

Four others were badly burned and taken to a hospital, where it was reported they probably would not recover.

A stream of persons was at the morgue today trying to identify the bodies of the victims. They met with only partial success, however, although police said jewelry and other articles on the charred bodies probably would lead to discovery of relatives of all those burned.

Bernard M. McFeely, director of public safety in Hoboken, has ordered two investigations; one by the police into the manner in which the hotel was being conducted, and the other by the fire department to determine how the fire started.

According to a statement by George Groll, the night clerk, the fire started in a guest's room. It is believed the guest had left a lighted cigar or cigarette stub where it set fire to the drapery.

TO HOLD MEETING
The Orient Hill School Mothers Circle will meet at the school building Tuesday, February 1.

CITY TO ENFORCE ORDINANCES AGAINST B. & O. RAILROAD

Action of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad in the alleged failure to comply with the order of the city to plank its right of way at all newly paved street crossings where the planking was torn up to establish a grade may lead to old ordinances regarding the speed of trains and the blocking of crossings to be enforced. Such notice was served on the railroad in a letter written by City Manager Kenyon Riddle Monday. It is pointed out that during the paving work, the planking along the right of way had to be torn up, as the roadway was lowered to meet the proper grade. The road, it is said, has since ignored orders of the city to replank the roadway, especially at street intersections.

A ten day ultimatum given the road by the city some time ago was totally ignored, it was brought out at a recent commission meeting. For that reason the city will enforce the speed ordinances which have been standing idle on the statute books since the enfranchisement of the railroads here.

The speed ordinance provides that trains shall not travel through the city at a greater speed than six miles an hour, which is considered drastic in these times, and has not been enforced for that reason, and there is also another ordinance concerning the blocking of streets by trains.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mr. Ollie Dodds, who for a time was in charge of the billiard hall on East Main street has severed his connection with it and Mr. Will Grottenick the former owner is again in charge.

The bids for the construction of the new sanitary sewerage system for Xenia were opened by the commission at noon today. In all, about twenty bids were submitted, the work of opening and examining them occupying most of the afternoon.

The jewelry store of Kyle and Tate is to have a change of location about the first of May, moving from the room now occupied by it to the room in the Allen block now occupied by Fawcett and the Rapid Transit office. This will make a desirable location for them and will necessitate the Rapid Transit Company and the U. S. Fawcett vacating the room before long.

It was something like fifteen degrees warmer this morning than yesterday morning and while the weather is still quite wintry the change is a very welcome one. The sleighing parties have been making the most of the occasion and the liveryman has been reaping a harvest, a dollar an hour being charged for an outfit for ride over the "beautiful."

Just Plain Bitro-Phosphate If Nervous and Run Down

"Neurasthenia is nerve exhaustion," says Dr. Frederick Kolbe author of medical text books, and is caused by worry, overwork, emotional excitement and excesses of various kinds.

To restore to complete health the men and women whose nervous energy is undermined a pure organic phosphate known to Sayre & Hemphill and all leading druggists as Bitro-Phosphate must be taken freely with meals until the nerve and brain cells are revitalized with this natural element. It is nerve-wrecked people's one hope for a happy useful future.

To The Theatre Goers of The City of Xenia

Today I make the most interesting announcement I have ever made in my career as a theatrical manager.

I believe the information contained in the following statement will be read with intense interest by all who value the best and most artistic in the world of amusement.

I have always faithfully endeavored to bring to my patrons the biggest and the best theatrical attractions of all times, for I know that only the biggest and the best appeal.

Now I am happy and proud to announce that I have contracted with F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest, producers of the world-famous "Chu Chin Chow," whereby that brilliant and gorgeous spectacle of ancient Bagdad, the world's most beautiful production, will appear at the Victory theatre for four days, beginning Sunday, Feb. 13, with matinee on Wednesday.

"Chu Chin Chow" is a gigantic and gorgeous musical extravaganza, in 10 scenes, with 18 musical numbers, produced on a scale of colossal grandeur, employing the services of 300 people. It was originally presented in London at His Majesty's Theatre nearly four years ago by Oscar Reche, in association with the late Sir Herbert Tree, and is still playing there to capacity.

The American production of "Chu Chin Chow" was made by Messrs. Comstock and Gest after the payment of the biggest royalty ever known in the theatrical world, in New York more than two years ago, the scenery and costumes being imported from England and being exact duplicates of the originals.

"Chu Chin Chow" ran one entire season in New York at the Century Theatre and then played an entire season in Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and several other big cities.

This great production, once more presented in New York at the Century Theatre in August, for a return engagement, and now embellished with many additional scenes and new costumes, comes here direct from its second engagement on Broadway.

Owing to intense interest in the engagement, MAIL ORDERS for this important theatrical event will now be received. Send remittance with self-addressed stamped envelope for return of tickets, and, as there will unquestionably be an avalanche of mail orders, please name choice of two performances to insure getting seats.

PRICES—Nights—$1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00.
Wednesday Matinee—$1.00, $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50.
Add 10% for War Tax.

I believe the engagement of "Chu Chin Chow" will be the most notable event ever known at the Victory theatre.

Youthfulness is the Keynote of the SPRING SUITS

Uninterrupted by belt or girdle, the backs of the Eton, box effect and tailored Suits hang straight from the shoulder to hem at which point they flare or have bright touches of henna, tan, blue or scarlet to further emphasize their engaging youthfulness. Buttons and braid are also employed as jacket trimmings but the skirts are quite simple.

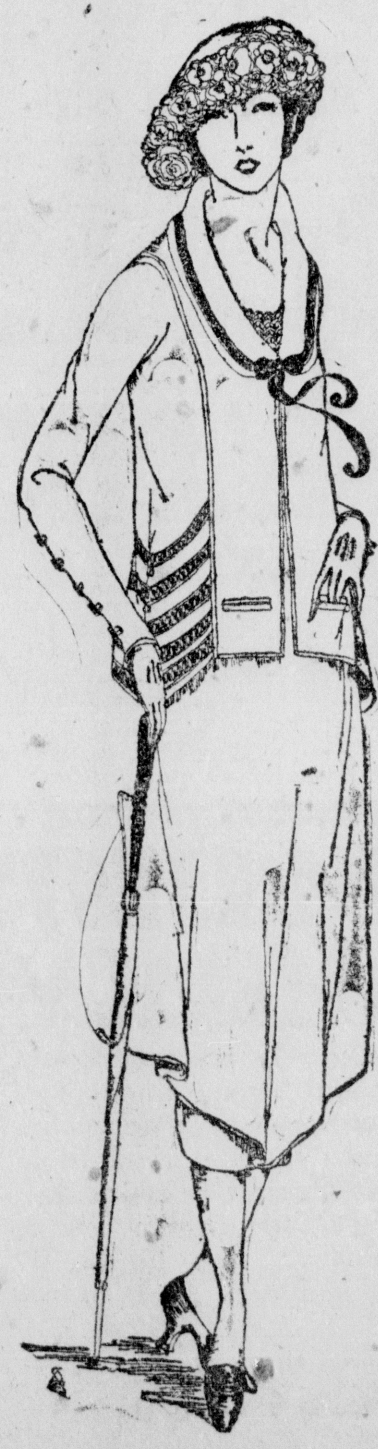

To see these beautiful creations will be to want to possess one, and as the selection is wide you will have no trouble in choosing "the" suit.

PRICED FROM
$29.75 to $75.00

THREE GAME PROGRAM WILL BE STAGED AT
RINK WEDNESDAY

A three-game basketball program that promises real interest for the court bugs, will be staged at the rink Wednesday night.

St. Brigid's Meteors, now in the grip of a losing jinx will attempt to come out of their slump with a win over the Comer Manufacturing Company five of Dayton, which aggregation they meet as a part of the Wednesday program.

The new Shamrock Athletic Club team, fresh from its victory over the much touted Beaver Cadets will bring a real attraction to the local floor on the same night when they meet the Springfield Triangles, a lively assemblage of cagers from Clark County, while the St. Brigid's Meteors will furnish the preliminary with another good team.

The Meteors were sailing along at a rapid pace when St. Raphael's High of Springfield, the only team that defeated them last year, bounced them off by the briefest of margins. Last week they dropped another contest, this time to the Dayton Blueprints and to come back this week, Coach Haller is giving them stiff workouts.

The Shamrocks are announcing the addition of Ancil 'Yank' Stevens to their lineup. This lad is one of the best forwards ever developed at Central High and has been winning honors for himself at Miami University. He will be home for the balance of the season and his addition to the green and white combination is a step that will be most popular with the fans. The first game will start early.

SHIP POLO PONIES TO ENGLISH GAMES

London, Jan. 31.—The thoroughness with which the American authorities are making their arrangements for the international polo matches at Hurlingham next year is emphasized by the fact that they have shipped fifty points to England which are now stabled at Tidworth. These include five of the mounts ridden in America when the British team carried off the trophy in 1914.

ASPIRIN

Name "Bayer" on Genuine

Take no chances with substitutes! Unless you see the name "Bayer" by physicians for twenty-one years and proved safe by millions. Take Aspirin only as told in the Bayer package for Colds, Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Earache, Toothache, Lumbago and for Pain. Handy tin boxes of twelve Bayer Tablets of Aspirin cost few cents. Druggists also sell larger packages. Aspirin is of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylic acid.

Mrs. Ida Hamburg, of Brattleboro, Vt., who says she never dreamed there was anything on earth that would do what Tanlac has done for her. Gains twenty-seven pounds.

"I think it is perfectly marvelous the way Tanlac has built me up. Before I began taking it I was in wretched health and only weighed 111 pounds. I now weigh 144 pounds and my health is splendid. I never dreamed that there was a medicine on earth that would cause me to regain my former weight and health in so short a time, but Tanlac did it and I simply can not tell you how grateful I am to this wonderful medicine. I suffered for two years from indigestion and dyspepsia and was in a very badly run-down condition. I had a tired worn-out feeling nearly all the time and rarely had any appetite. At times I would have indigestion so badly that I could hardly breathe. I also suffered from palpitation of the heart, severe headaches and pains in my back but thanks to Tanlac all of these terrible symptoms have left me and I now feel as well as I ever did in my life. Another thing; I sleep just splendidly at night now and never suffer from nervousness like I used to. Tanlac is certainly a wonderful medicine and I am only too delighted to recommend it to my friends." The above statement was made recently by Mrs. Ida Hamburg, of 316 S. Main street, Brattleboro, Vermont. Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill, in Yellow Springs by A. Finley, Bowersville, N. K. Bowermeister; Fairfield, Paul P. Young, Osborn, C. J. THE SCANDALOUS ASPERSION OF CHARLES M. SCHWAB'S
GOOD NAME.

In the day of our country's direst need—in the day when the sky was dark with forebodings of evil to our brave boys at the front—then it was that the nation's biggest men rallied to her succor. They hurried to the capital and offered their services without thought of pay.

One of these was that magnificent son of genius and constructive enterprise, Mr. Charles M. Schwab, the great iron master; and for ten long months he served his country in a great position for which there had been a crying need, as head of the ship building department of the government.

The humiliation of this big constructive genius, to whose herculean efforts present civilization owes more than it ever can repay for its preservation, is a spectacle that should shame the people he so loyally and efficiently served without money and without price.

General Pershing's insistent cry was for ships, ships, more ships! The world was rocking on the edge of the abyss of inconceivable chaotic doom. Charles M. Schwab provided those ships, Germany was halted, crushed, the world saved!

The testimony of this big American before the congressional committee commands the deference, sympathy and respect of every decent citizen of the country. His indignant denial of having received $260,000, or any other sum for personal expenses while in the Government service was not needed to convince sane men of affairs of his integrity. His emotion, uncontrolled, was the natural reaction of a strong, clean man writhing under the odium of a wretched and sordid imputation which touched his honor more than his honesty. It was the first "stain" on a record of more than forty years of splendid service and achievement.

Not to return one good deed for another is inhuman, but to return evil for good is diabolical, and this was just what Charles M. Schwab's country was doing in publicly charging him with having taken money for his services, which has been thoroughly disproved.

Ingratitude is the sum of all baseness—it is monstrous, and as Shakespeare says for a multitude to be ungrateful makes a monster of the multitude.

But in this particular case we are sure that the multitude is indignant, not at Charles M. Schwab, but at those who so unjustly aspersed his good name.

FREE GARDEN SEEDS FOR ALL, AND ALL IS WELL.

Yesterday's headlines tried to stir the sluggish flow of public interest into a swirl over the passage by the Senate of the packer regulation measure, and the discussion of armaments in the House, and the peace conference assembly in Paris, and a dozen other more or less important domestic and international matters. But the all-important and burning question for the average plug citizen of this land was the passage by the House on Monday, by a vote of 83 to 72, of the amendment to the agricultural appropriation measure providing $300,000 for free seeds to be distributed by members of Congress to their constituents.

This palpitating news item was not heralded by black headlines nor was it played across or up and down the printed page, but it cuts more ice in the political destiny of this country than the League of Nations and the tariff and the armament question all lumped into one.

Well does the congressman know. His finger is upon the pulse-beat of his constituency, his ear is close to the ground and he shades his eyes with his hand while he peers at the portents in the political sky. If his seed shipments went out on time, all is well; if they did not, he had better take to the cyclone cella before the storm breaks. A mail sack full of free seeds looms larger before the vision of the average rural community or small-town gaze than the stately walls of a postoffice building bulking two stories high and a hundred and fifty feet wide on the town's principal corner.

It is a strange but true commentary upon human nature, the overpowering effect of congressional seed distribution upon the average citizen. It is the one tangible beneficence from a paternal government to its people. It is the average citizen's one lone dig into the United States treasury. It is a gift into his hand. And he takes a dollar's worth of garden seeds and buys five dollars' worth of agricultural implements and hires a man to plow his back lot and he plants these seeds and blesses his congressman and prays for warm sunshine and recurrent rains. That he only reaps a peck of vegetables from all his expenditure and effort is not the point. The main point is, he has been recognized by his sovereign government. He had enough "drag" with his congressman to be subsidized by a special shipment of free seeds.

Never doubt it. The most important news items of last Monday was that four-line paragraph that told of the passage of the $300,000 free-seed-distribution amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill. Well does the congressman know.—Kansas City Star.

THIS PARLOUS TIME.

It is no time for knocking, or pulling doleful face; predictions dire and shocking are badly out of place. For years our mood was mellow, we gamboled and we pranced; and now we pay the fellow who fiddled while we danced. Now let us be brave critters, and pay the bill in style, and while we take our bitters present a dauntless smile. We're busy readjusting, we'd get back on the track, and many things are busting, and many more must crack; it's courage that we're needing, and patience and good sense, and bosoms that are bleeding should bleed behind the fence. We knew when things were beaming that settlement must come, the day of fate was looming before us, stark and grim; and now that day we're facing, so let's conceal our fears; there is no use disgracing our sex by shedding tears. All things will be adjusted, there are good times in store, the booms in which we trusted will be on deck once more, and he is streaked with yellow who makes a mournful din, now that we pay the fellow who played the violin.

URGE THAT LETTERS
BE MAILED EARLY
DURING THE DAY

A nation-wide campaign to induce postal patrons to get mail in to the post offices early in the day has been started by the National Federation of Post Office Clerks.

In a statement issued by the clerk organization it is said 75 per cent of all mail handled in post offices does not get into the hands of clerks until after 5 o'clock in the evening.

The practice among business men it is asserted of delaying the signing of letters until late in the day results in a peak load congestion at post offices which operates to the disadvantage of the public and imposes much unnecessary night work upon the clerks.

"We want to reduce the peak load of mail by pointing out to mail patrons the advantages of mailing early and often," said a member of the federation. "There is an evening mail congestion in every large post office which could be avoided in part at least, if large mailers would mail early."

"The service handles a million and a half letters every hour. Each letter is handled on an average of eight times which makes the equivalent of twelve million letters every hour of the day and night."

CRIME WAVE DUE TO LOW MENTALITY

Columbus, Jan. 31.—The crime wave is a war waged by those of low mentality against society," declared Dr. H. H. Goddard, head of the Ohio Bureau of Juvenile Research.

Claiming that crime, in most cases is a disease he urged continuance of the parole system.

Crime, he said, is not traceable to clemency of courts or boards of clemency.

Crime exists everywhere. It is world-wide and rampant where mercy was never heard of," said Dr. Goddard.

Attributing responsibility for most of the crime to the State for failing to provide institutions for the treatment of children of low mentality to cure them of the impulse to commit crime, he said that in order to stop crime the cause must be "hit."

TWO TEACHERS FAINT
IN ICY SCHOOLROOM

Beverly, Mass., Jan. 31.—Alice Peck, Mary Monogue and Nellie Bronson, teachers at the McKay St. school, Beverly, were so cold that they fainted.

The girl pupils cried from the cold and the tear drops froze on their cheeks. There is plenty of coal and Superintendent Chase is going to investigate the reason why it is so cold in the rooms. The children were sent home.

The Markets

Stocks.

A rather dull market largely dominated by professional is expected during the next two weeks. Price advances and reactions have been intermittent and irregular and will probably continue so. Recent liquidation precludes a sharp general decline in prices. February may witness a moderate decline, as it often does after the traditional January rise. Bank statements continue favorable in the main and the tendency in foreign exchange has been decidedly upward. The market weakens, it will simply reflect current business conditions, which it outdistanced during early January. Heavy speculative commitments are not warranted at present.

GRAIN.

The trend of the grain market is not altogether clear, owing to the conflict of many factors and uncertainty attending them. Export buying is a constructive influence, but no one can state accurately future world requirements. The trend of foreign exchange and easier money conditions encourage exports. Flour demand in the Northwest has improved. On the other hand, farmers show an inclination to market their grain in some quarters and arrivals of corn have reached a high level. The first three weeks of January brought a heavy movement of the five grains to primary centers. Argentina is regarded as a dangerous competitor even through the export tax may add appreciably to the price. Car supply is ample in most regions. A decided upward turn in wheat, carried through a number of consecutive weeks, is improbable for the immediate future.

Livestock.

Demand for beef has suffered by reason of the current industrial depression. Hogs show a better tone. Live mutton continues much depreciated with little prospect of immediate recovery. Stock cattle are in improved demand, owing to easier money conditions. Some money released by liquidation of grain and hogs has been put into cattle. Feeders are taking heavy losses on live mutton. Heavy sheep and lambs are a drag on the market. The bureau of markets, in discussing hog receipts, declares it logical to expect at least fairly generous runs of above average weight hogs at western markets during the next six weeks.

Cotton.

Rallies in the cotton market have been diversely regarded as natural reactions in a falling market and the definite ending of decline. The latest liquidation is assuredly upward, but a decided upward trend may not develop until some indefinite time in the future which the bulls do not like to contemplate. The quick absorption of the Belgian loan augurs well for the success of other foreign loans and the stimulation of exports. The textile outlook in this country is fairly encouraging. On the other hand, ginnings to January 15 are larger than in recent years. British stocks of the raw staple are very large, exports make a poorer showing than last year, textile wages are still unduly high, mild weather has reduced consumers' interest in clothing, and industrial conditions remain depressed.

Wool.

Considerable wool has been sold during the past three weeks and the tendency of dealers is to ask higher prices. Wool of the better grades is most in demand. The British government shows a wool market. The wool decline in the wool market. The wool growers' convention at Salt Lake City discussed the emergency tariff bill and the extension of credit to the growers for the purpose of holding their wool continuously until better prices are obtainable. Dealers believe the manufacturers have no large stocks. Whatever the fate of the emergency tariff, an act taking wool off the free list during the early part of the Harding administration is altogether probable.

Paralysis in the iron and steel market is more acute than at any previous time and Birmingham has sold pig iron at $30 base. Sweeping wage reductions and reductions in the prices quoted by the steel corporation are predicted. Mill activity is at low ebb with little substantial business in sight. The suspension of operations makes the promise of delivery on new business difficult and impedes bookings. The industry has not yet reached bottom and no improvement in conditions is foreseen during the next few months. Copper has been weak and quiet, reversing the early trend of the month.

Agriculture.

Various recent proposals for the limitation of naval armaments, principally as affecting Britain, Japan and the United States, meet with the necessary step in the reduction of government expenditures. At the best the government must spend $4,000,000,000 per year during the next five years, judging from present indications. In the face of a huge national debt and heavily increased taxation, the prosecution of a naval program like that of Secretary Daniels seems utter folly. In immediate effect far from giving a sense of security, it breeds distrust abroad and stimulates naval building by other powers, which in turn leads to further building in this country.

The senate in passing its bill for federal regulation of the meat packers and other agencies of the livestock industry suggests the impending end of a controversy more than a decade old. The bill creates a federal livestock commission of three members appointed by the president to have jurisdiction over the livestock industry, prescribes rules for the conduct of the packing business, stipulates against monopoly, unfair trade practices, participation in unrelated industries, and the like permits voluntary licensing of packers, and exempts all persons whose chief business is livestock growing or the production of agricultural products from the provisions of the bill. This last clause gives the farmer complete immunity from all restraints imposed in the bill, while the bill itself fulfills the long cherished hope of many livestock growers that the federal government might one day regulate and supervise the packing industry. The bill contains much promise for the livestock industry, which has suffered long from price fluctuations and uncertainties which it feels are at least partially induced by packer control and administration. Proponents of the bill hope to secure final action in the House before adjournment of the present Congress.

Tariff Bill Delayed

Consideration of appropriation bills in the remaining days of the present session will further delay passage of the Emergency tariff bill, it is believed. Sentiment in the Senate is favorable to the bill with amendments but these amendments, would be apt to cause trouble and delay in conference. Yielding to the pressure of organized dairy interests, the Senate Finance committee advanced the duties on the leading dairy products.

A sane view of the tariff bill and one that commends it to sections of the population not concerned with agricultural production is put forward by the breeders' Gazette, always conservative in its opinion. The Gazette remarks that it favors the present tariff bill "merely as an emergency proposition" and that "considerable time must necessarily elapse before anything like a safe settled policy can be formulated. Most farmers will recognize that any tariff must permit a free and fair exchange of commodities with foreign countries or the United States will lose the advantage of foreign trade."

What increased labor costs mean to the farmer is shown by statistics of the department of Agriculture. Wages paid hired men have doubled in 10 years, tripled in 20 years, and quadrupled in 40 years.

FARMERS WILL NOT BE HELPED BY WAR LEGISLATION, SAID

Washington, Jan. 31.—Not a farmer in the entire country will be able to borrow a dollar from the War Finance Corporation unless directly engaged in export business according to Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, former Secretary of the Treasury.

In a letter to B. F. Moomaw a Virginia farmer, who criticized him for voting against a revival of the corporation, Senator Glass also declared that there is not a cent in the treasury of the corporation, and that to aid exporters it must borrow in the open market, "for use of a single class money that is now available to all classes."

Submitting figures to show that exports in 1920 were greater than ever before, the Senator declared that what is needed now is not credit to finance more exports, but additional markets for them.

"The funds of the corporation are not to be lent to farmers for the purpose of holding crops for a higher market or making new crops," the Senator wrote, "but only to traders to sell and ship at prevailing prices. In other words, the avowed purpose of the act is to stimulate an export trade which, for the year just ended, was the greatest of all history, exceeding by $391,000,000 that of the preceding year."

"The War Finance Corporation announced 10 days ago that it was open for business. But not a single export house in the United States dealing in farm products has made application for or inquiry in regard to a loan."

"Politicians who tell the farmers that the fall in the prices of farm products is due to inadequate credits for commercial purpose lack either understanding or truthfulness. And I am sure you would not have me join one class or the other by voting for improved quack remedies or by practicing deceptions."

CONTRACT PRICES FOR PRINT PAPER REACH HIGHEST MARK EVER KNOWN; NO DROP

New York, Jan. 31.—While the cost of living is sagging, and the cost of production in most lines of business is dropping, American publishers meet with still further price increases.

News print paper contracts for the first quarter of 1921 call for $6.50 per hundredweight. This is the highest figure print paper ever has been sold by contract. The "spot" market price is considerable higher. The largest price increase in history was scored during 1920, and is reflected in the $6.50 contract price American and Canadian paper mills are charging for January, February and March 1921.

Before 1916 the price of news print maintained an almost even level at between $1.92 and $2. It did not pass the latter figure until July 1916 when it began a steady climb, reaching $3.11 in April 1917. About January 1918 there was a slight drop, but by the end of the year the price had gone up to $3.73.

The first $4 contract paper price was reached in December 1919. In the latter part of 1920 when all other prices were starting downward, print paper continued upward going to $5.66 in November. The 1921 contract price (for January, February and March) is $6.50. This is 50 percent higher than the January (1920) price; it is 100 percent higher than the 1918 average price, and is more than 200 percent higher than print paper ever sold at under contract before the war.

OHIO SENATE CALLS FOR INVESTIGATION OF STATE HIGHWAYS

Columbus, Jan. 31.—Following closely the unanimous action of the House of Representatives calling for a probe of the condition of cattle at the State Prison Farm the Senate has adopted a joint resolution by Senator James R. Hopley, of Bucyrus, calling for a thorough investigation of the State Highway Department. This action followed closely the passage of a bill by Senator Hopley to do away with the Highway Advisory Board which for two years has been pointed to as being more political than efficient. This board was one of the creations of former Governor Cox.

Charges made in the Hopley resolution are that contracts were made "in excess of the market value of materials and in excess of the estimate made for improvement of certain roads of the state, and that said contracts have resulted in financial disadvantage and loss to the state of Ohio."

Collusion is charged among bidders and contractors and it is currently reported that roads have been constructed and improved by force account and that the state has suffered loss of a large sum of money by reason of collusion which has existed between contractors and sub-contractors, all of which the State Highway department knew or should have known.

GEORGE A. FUDGE DIES ON SATURDAY

George A. Fudge, 81, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Hugh McFadden, on South Whiteman street, at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Death was due to the infirmities of age. He had been an invalid for three years and his illness became serious during the last three weeks. Mr. Fudge was born in Greene county and had spent practically all of his life here. He was married to Magdalene Shook, November 21, 1868. Surviving are the following children: Harry M. Fudge, Harlan and John, and Mrs. Hugh McFadden, all of this city; Mrs. Lewis Pennewit, of Loveland, and Mrs. Pearl Turner, of Waynesville. One half brother, P. M. Fudge, also survives.

Mr. Fudge was a member of the Lutheran church. Funeral services were held at the home of his son, Harry Fudge, 23 Hivling street, at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon and were in charge of Rev. H. B. Uhl, pastor of the Lutheran church.

WOULD UNSEAT DEMOCRATS
Chicago, Jan. 31.—Demand for a recount of votes cast in the last election in the hope of unseating Congressman John W. Rainey, A. J. H. Bath and Stanley Kunz, the only three Democrats elected to the national house of representatives from Illinois, was filed before the election commissioners today by their defeated opponents.

campaign when Kansas women secured the ballot. Her achievements make her the logical woman to blaze the way for other women legislators. "It is a wonderful privilege to be a legislator," is her opinion.

TO TEACH INTERNATIONALISM
A summer school to "educate women in internationalism" will be held in connection with the Congress of the Women's International League to be held in Vienna during the first two weeks in August.

CLUBHOUSE TO COST MILLIONS
A charter has been granted in Massachusetts for "The Durant, Incorporated," a combination clubhouse, hotel and gymnasium for women. The structure will be erected in Boston and will cost several million dollars. Of the 105 women whose names appear on the charter, all but three are wage-earners in business or professions. It is the aim of the incorporators to secure at least 20,000 members.

Despite her seventy-two years of age, Ellen Terry is still on the stage and is playing nightly in a theatre in the suburb of Hampstead, England.

DISCOVER DEPOSITS OF OIL IN BOLIVIA

Berkeley, Jan. 31.—Wonderful discoveries of oil recently have been made in Bolivia and an American company is declared to have secured concessions there which are about as large as the state of Pennsylvania, says Professor C. E. Chapman, United States exchange professor, who has just returned from a year at the University of Chile. At present he says the new oil fields are

NO DENIAL MADE THAT TUBERCULAR CATTLE ARE IN HERD

Columbus, Jan. 31.—That there are tubercular cattle in the state herd at the London farm; that milk and butter from this herd has been furnished state wards and children at the juvenile research bureau, has not been denied by those in charge of the farm who have been called to testify before the house probe committee.

Charges not refuted are: That there are ninety-two tubercular cattle in the herd of two hundred and forty.

That milk and butter from these tubercular cattle have been furnished state wards and juveniles.

That when the veterinary department of O. S. U. requested a tubercular cow "in the advanced stages" for observation, one has been taken from the herd.

That one cow was sent to O. S. U. this month.

That it was known that cattle in this herd showed reaction when purchased.

That $1.50 a bushel is being charged for corn from one department of the state farm to the other when corn is retailing on the market at 50 cents a bushel.

That there are tubercular cattle at other state institutions in Ohio.

Dr. Theodore E. Burnett, state veterinarian for whom a place was created as "veterinarian of the State Board of administration by Governor and N. E. Shaw, secretary of the state board of Agriculture, also a Cox appointee, profess ignorance of the condition.

LINGERING ILLNESS BROUGHT TO CLOSE

John Burtis, 82, died at his home 81 Walnut street, at 12:50 o'clock Sunday afternoon after a lingering illness brought on by advanced age. He had been ill since last April, his condition becoming serious within the last three weeks, and death being due to heart trouble and complications.

Mr. Burtis was born in New Jersey, June 5, 1838, and his marriage to Miss Jane Ludlum, took place in 1867. She survives him with two children, Mrs. Harley Wharton and Edward Burtis, both of this city. Six grand children and two great grand children also survive.

Mr. Burtis served during the Civil War as a member of Company G, 133 O. V. I. Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at ten o'clock and burial will be made at South Lebanon.

PEOPLE OF HAWAII MAKE DONATIONS

New York, Jan. 31.—The plight of the shivering, starving children of Central Europe has so appealed to the people of sunny Hawaii that they have donated $32,317 to the European relief fund to help feed them. A cablegram announcing the amount of the islanders was sent by Alfred Castle, who was appointed chairman for Hawaii by Governor J. McCarthy, at the headquarters of the Relief Council No. 42 Broadway.

If the rest of the country responded with the generosity of the Hawaiians there would be no question as to the raising of the $33,000,000 required to feed the three and one-half million children in Central Europe who are dependent upon America for even one meal of stew, black bread and cocoa a day. For the population of Hawaii is but a trifle in excess of 255,000, more than three quarters of whom are Japanese, Chinese or natives making the per capita donations of the residents most substantial.

BRIEF SERVICES ARE HELD SATURDAY

Brief funeral services for Mrs. Lydia Smith were held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Viola Hackney, near Wilmington, at 12 o'clock noon, Saturday.

Following the brief services, services were held at the Eleazar church at 1:30 o'clock in charge of Rev. Foltz, and assisted by Mrs. Jennie Carle, who led in prayer and read a W. C. T. U. memoir.

Burial was made in Woodland cemetery this city the pall bearers all being nephews of Mrs. Smith.

ILLINOIS SEWERS GET MILLION DOLLARS' WORTH OF BOOZE

U. S. agents dumping a few of the 32,000 gallons of liquor into the sewers in Waukegan, Ill.

The dumping of a few gallons of hard liquor has been common in the vicinity of Chicago for the past few months, but government agents are believed to have set a world's record at Waukegan, Ill. They dumped 32,000 gallons of alcoholic beverages into the sewers to find its way into Lake Michigan. At the present high

almost inaccessible.

England, he declares, is decidedly energetic in securing oil concessions in the South American republics and will shortly control the supply there

English concerns have men in the field continuously looking up every possible oil field.

Only by building up the South American countries by ourselves investing in railroads, and the great power projects that are offered and the development of their resources will the United States capture the South American trade.

TEACHERS URGE INFLUENCE OF GOOD TO CHECK CRIME

Lack of proper influence in the home, too many poorly prepared teachers, the overstraining of personal liberty without an equal emphasis on the majesty of the law, and the desire of the public mind for the sensational were some of the reasons attributed by the teachers of the Xenia township schools, for the present crime wave in a meeting in the Township Office Xenia, last Friday.

Discussing causes of the crime wave and methods to combat it, the outstanding facts were brought forth, crime records of this country condemn us as a nation. Chicago it was said, has eight times as many murderers as Paris and six times as many as London, although London has four times the population of Chicago.

It was claimed that as a nation, we spend five hundred million dollars more fighting existing crime than all the works of charity, education, and religion spend to prevent crime.

Asserting that criminals are the outgrowth of our present apparent inattention to the youth of the nation one teacher said:

"Every crime and every criminal is prima facie evidence of failure somewhere; criminals are not born, they are made, and they are not self made but fellow made. Pascal called the child a little impulsive being, who like soft clay, cannot resist the hand of the potter; the public mind seems to fatten on the immoral details of a Breckenridge-Pollard case, a Thaw trial or a Cassie Chadwick sensation."

"The home must be the best place to train the rising generation. Some one has said: 'The family life has decayed, due largely to increased desire for ease, idleness, pleasure and sensation, clubs, divorce, second marriages, apartment life, and a constant ridicule and burlesque of the marital relations by the stage and cheap literature and song have weakened society at its base.'

"Traditional principles of religion and morality as once emphasized in the home have disappeared. These must be returned; commercialized films, warped to every fancy and compromise and filled with shooting looting and impure suggestion direct much of the little thinking that is done nowadays—and it is hazardous, because it will influence the mind of the youth; home restraint is practically gone. The home the school and the church must join hands in earnest to bring about satisfactory results."

The following topics were also discussed:

- (a) The Project Method of Teaching.
- (b) Reading Material for our Pupils.
- (c) What Books Should Teachers Read, why?
- (d) Causes of the Present Crime Wave and How to Counteract it.
- (e) Profitable busy work for grades one and two.

UP AT SIX-- FEELING FINE

Red-Blooded Men and Women Get Things Done. Rich Blood Means Vitality

THIN BLOOD MAKES YOU LAZY

Strengthen and Build Up Your Blood with Pepto-Mangan

UP AT SIX . . . Men and women who are on the road to big success are not lagging on the way. They are bright and cheerful because their systems are fed with rich, red blood.

Weak blood, thin and sluggish, will never get you anywhere. You would be surprised how many people are just drifting along half alive. They never want to do anything—never get anywhere—because their blood is in bad condition.

The sensible thing to do is to keep the blood pure and full of red corpuscles. Pepto-Mangan will do that for you the way it has for millions of men and women in the past thirty years. Notice the difference after your blood gets plenty of red corpuscles in it. See how you'll pop out of bed early, refreshed and ready to do big things. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan. Ask for "Gude's" and be sure 'hat the name is on the package. If you prefer tablets, take them. If not, ask for the liquid. Both have the same medicinal value. adv

ANTIOCH SECURES EVEN BREAK; BOYS WIN, GIRLS LOSE

Antioch Academy secured an even break in two fast and well played games at Kelly Gym Saturday night, the boys trimming St. Raphaels High of Springfield 33 to 11 and the girls losing out to Ross township 13 to 12.

St. Raphaels was out for revenge having lost a previous encounter and the first half was crowded with hard playing with the Academy barely able to hold the advantage, the half ending with the score of 13 to 8. In the second half Antioch succeeded in putting up a better offense and ran their score up to triple that of their opponents.

The Antioch Academy girls went down in defeat to the Ross township girls in one of the best games ever played on the floor. Both teams were very evenly matched and the contest was much faster and also much rougher than the majority. The Ross girls got off to an early lead and were never headed. The score at the end of the first half was 5 to 2. The Academy outplayed their opponents in the final period but could not quite over come the lead of the first half. Inability to make free throws good cost the Academy the game as they were unable to toss a single one of their twelve chances through the nets.

Captain Corry was the individual star of the game and it was her brilliant guarding that kept the score from being larger. Krauto and Cunningham also played well for Antioch while St. Pistick and Cummings were the stellar performers for Ross.

STINCHCOMB AND HARLEY GET OFFERS

Columbus, O., Jan. 31.—Ohio State two All-American football men, "Chic" Harley and "Pete" Stinchcomb, both of whom will be graduated in June may take up coaching. Harley has had numerous offers, the most recent from the University of Tennessee. Since it was only for the football season, Harley doesn't look favorably upon it. He takes any coaching berth it probably will be for the entire year, since he won his letter in football, basketball, baseball and track.

Stinchcomb, on the other hand, has been tendered the athletic directorship of an eastern school, but says he'd rather coach only football. He was a four sport man in high school but has won his letter only in football at Ohio State.

POPPIES FROM SHORE OF LAKE LOUISE TO BLOOM IN QUEEN OF ENGLAND'S GARDEN

When the Duke of Argyll was Governor-General of Canada, his Duchess, the Princess Louise, was fascinated by the beauty of the Canadian Pacific Rockies and it was accepted as a very happy compliment when a lake of exceptional beauty, discovered in 1882 by Tom Wilson, a far-ou guide at Banff, was named after her Royal Highness. The lake does indeed appear to have been known to the Indians who called it the "Lake of the Little Fishes." Today the Indians would probably describe it as the "Lake of Golden" for

The Canadian Pacific Railway has printed vast quantities of beautiful Iceland poppies on the shores and hills surrounding the great Chateau Hotel. This poppy is a fairly common and has multiplied so that in summer there is now a blaze of brilliant poppy blossoms about the hotel and lake.

When the delegates to the Imperial Press Conference returned last fall from Canada to England, Miss Billington, the one woman delegate, mentioned the exceptional beauty of these poppies to Princess Louise, who expressed a desire to obtain some of the seeds. These were sent to Her Royal Highness in a specially made box of Canadian maple wood, and were accepted with expressions of great delight. The tale of Lake Louise's poppies came to the ears of the Queen, who also received a consignment. Her Majesty was equally delighted and gave orders that the seeds should be planted in the Royal Gardens at Balmoral. There, for many a summer to come, the Royal Family will be pleasantly reminded of the most exquisitely beautiful spot in the Canadian Rockies.

plot of the championship 1916 and 1917 elevens, has been offered the post of football coach at Waite High in Toledo, to be vacated by "Nucky" Rupp, former Dennison star.

Yerges, an instructor at Ohio State, where he also is assistant football coach, probably will not accept.

FARMERS REQUIRED TO FILE INCOME TAX STATEMENTS

Thousands of farmers whose net income for 1920 equaled or exceeded the exemptions of $1000 for single persons and $200 for married persons, will be required to file on or before March 15, 1921, income tax returns for the year 1920.

As an aid to farmers the Bureau of Internal Revenue has prepared a special form 1040F, for recording sales of livestock, produce and a summary of income and expenses. This form should be attached to the taxpayer's individual return on Form 1040 or 1040 A. Full instructions for making out the forms are contained in each.

Under gross income a farmer is required to include all proceeds derived from the sale of farm products whether produced on a farm or purchased for resale. When he exchanges his produce for groceries, clothing and other merchandise he must include in his income the value of the articles received and exchanged. Profit received from the sale of farm land or rent received for the use thereof must also be included.

In determining his net income, upon which the tax is assessed the farmer may deduct all necessary expenses incurred in the operation of his farm during the year. These include cost of cultivation, harvesting and marketing of his crops, the cost of seed and fertilizer used, amount spent in repair to farm buildings other than the dwelling and to fences and machinery. The cost of farm tools used in the course of the year wages paid to employees other than domestic servants and rent paid for farm land and buildings other than dwelling are deductible items.

Farmers who keep no records or only records of cash receipts and disbursements should make their returns on the basis of actual receipts but farmers who keep complete accounts and who take inventories at the beginning and end of the year to determine their profits should report on the actual basis. Both methods are fully explained on Form 1040F, copies of which may be obtained from the offices of Collectors of Internal Revenue.

season's road offerings right in their own city, they will turn out for the farce, "The Girl in the Limousine" which through the efforts of the Standard Amusement Company, comes to this city Tuesday evening.

The company to produce the popular piece here, is a headline outfit, and this fact is guaranteed by the management. The company is the same that presented this side-splitting farce of A. H. Woods at the Victory Theater in Dayton earlier in he season, and if Elmer Reddell can pick the best for his Dayton show house, then patrons are going to have the opportunity of seeing the same class of legitimate productions here.

The piece will be presented here with Jane Iden in the lead a girl whose beauty leaves little to the imagination and a good patronage will insure other high class offerings for this city.

Chocolate Creams—Two cups of powdered sugar, three-quarters cup water. Boil five minutes. Beat into cream and form in drops.
Melt three-quarters cup chocolate scraped in bowl and set over steam to melt. Dip drops in chocolate and place on wax paper.
Fruit Caramels—One-half pound dates, one-half pound figs, one-half cup peanut butter. Clean dates and figs well, put through meat grinder, then mix in peanut butter. Shape in long roll and place in cool place. Cut in small pieces with sharp knife and wrap in wax paper.
SANDWICHES.
A very good filling for sandwiches: Put through the food grinder one-half pound cheese, two small onions; mix with two table-spoons chili sauce. Spread on white or brown bread.
CAKES.
Walnut Loaf Cake—One large cup of sugar, one and one-half cups butter, one and one-half cups of sweet milk, three eggs (beaten separately), two and one-half cups of flour, two teaspoons baking powder, two cups chopped raisins, one cup walnut meats.
It makes a fine cake for Christmas.
Apple Sauce Cakes—One cup apple sauce, one cup sugar, a little nutmeg (grated), one teaspoon cocoa, one teaspoon cinnamon, one-third cup butter (melted), one teaspoon soda, flour enough to make a batter that will drop from spoon. Bake in gem tins.
Icing: One cup brown sugar, one teaspoon cocoa, milk enough to moisten.
TO PREPARE AND COOK WILD GAME.
Raccoon—Only young and tender animals used.
First clean, cut into pieces and wash thoroughly, removing all fat. Cover with cold salted water and let stand several hours or overnight. Then put into kettle with sufficient boiling water to cover; add one teaspoon soda and let boil fifteen minutes. Pour off water and wash.
Return to stove with more boiling water added, this time with salt to season. Let cook until tender. Remove from water, dip each piece in cornmeal and fry.
Serve hot with catsup.
Woodchuck or Groundhog—Also the best way of cooking rabbits—Wash, clean thoroughly and cut into pieces. Let stand in salted water several hours or overnight.
Put into deep frying pan a generous amount of shortening (lard and butter mixed is best). Let this get hot, and into it place the pieces of woodchuck or rabbit; salt and pepper; let fry a few minutes and turn pieces. Then add a small amount of water, cover pan and let cook until done, turning pieces and adding water as it cooks down. Lastly, when done, remove cover and let fry brown.
Opossum—This is not served as it is not considered clean food. The animal is a scavenger.

The Woman He Married

BY JANE PHELPS

DICK MAKES AN ENEMY
CHAPTER 78
The next week when Dick came home I questioned him about the trouble at the bank.
"We found the man. The examiner said I did. He had very cleverly doctored the books, and if I had not had so much experience with involved accounts at the office I perhaps should not have found the trouble—at least not so quickly."
"What did they do with him?"
"Locked him up. He had stolen $30,000. He had been taking it for years, in dribbles. Mr. Peabody is pleased that I found it out, but is disposed to be lenient with the man."
"Oh, I hope so!"
"Well, I don't know. He's rather a hard customer, I imagine. He vows he'll have his revenge on me for showing him up."
"What could he do with him?"
"Nothing! So don't worry your little head."
I thought about it for a few days, then as nothing happened, I forgot all about it.
After banking hours Dick went house hunting. He was very anxious for me to be with him, and although Mother was glad to have Junior and me with her, she didn't object when he explained that he hated boarding, was lonely, and had no place to spend his evenings.
He always had been a peculiar man about being left alone. He never would remain in the house more than a few minutes if he came home and found me out. And I think at this time his thoughts were anything but good company. Then, too, he naturally must have missed the excitement of a broker's office, the after 3 o'clock games of chance he, in the last year, had joined in until dinner time. He seemed very nervous, although he tried to hide it from me.
"I don't wonder he wants his own home, his own table. You are a wonderful cook, Nana—far better than I ever was. I believe cooks, like artists, are born, not made. When you were a tiny girl and we had unexpected company, you could go into the kitchen and make a quick desert and it would be delicious."
"It never seemed like work to me, perhaps that's the reason I do it so well. But the clearing away, that is the part I dislike."
"We all dislike washing dishes. I think. It seems to be the one thing about housekeeping we agree upon."
"Mrs. Gray often used to come in and help me after we had had company—dry the dishes while I washed them, and chat at the same time."
"She was a remarkable woman. I would like to have known her better." Mother had met her when visiting us.
"When I can, some day after we get on our feet, I am going to ask her to visit us. She loved Junior almost as if he were her grandson, instead of yours."
"Well, I am glad he isn't! The little rogue. I wonder where he is? When he is so quiet he is apt to be in some mischief. Better look out and see."
Junior was not to be seen, so I called several times. Often he would hide, then would burst out at us, laughing to think he had successfully eluded us. But his childish pranks always amused us although we pre-tended to be frightened, to fear he was lost.
"Junior—Junior!" I called again and again. The little boy next door put his face between the paling and asked:
"Can't you find him?"
"No! Have you seen him? Do you know where he is?"
"Nope! He said he was going to see his daddy some day. Perhaps he's went."
"Oh, no! He was going with me." Mother came to the door.
"Haven't you found him yet?"
"No. Where do you suppose the little rascal has hidden this time?"
"I can't imagine," and she also called loudly.
"Good morning?" A man driving a load of hay stopped in front of the house. "If you're calling a small boy, he's up the road a piece. I offered to give him a ride, but he said he was going to see his daddy." We thanked the man and I hurried after Junior. I caught up with him in a short while and brought him back crying bitterly. Mother said:
"I guess it is as well that you go to Lansing soon, that your plan is all ready to put into operation. Junior seems determined to go to his father. I don't see what put the idea into his head."
"You said daddy was lonesome," Junior whailed, so throwing the onus of his escapade upon me. "I don't want my daddy to be lonesome, so I was going to go to stay with him."
"We'll both go to him in a few days, Dear. Mother doesn't want him to be lonesome either, and Mother is going to help him."
"How surprised he will be when he knows," Mother said, smiling at us. (To Be Continued.)
